National Toll 628

26 Die on State Highways

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Death took no holiday either on Wisconsin or the nation's streets and highways over the four-day Memorial Day weekend. Twenty-six persons were killed in Wisconsin over the weekend and the national toll soared past the 600 mark.

The grim count for Wisconsin surpassed all records for the Memorial Day holiday.

The previous worst such weekend in the state was in 1954 when 23 died.

Last year 15 persons were killed in the Memorial Day period.

The deaths sent Wisconsin's 1968 toll to 450, compared with 356 on this date in record 1967.

Two rural Solon Springs men were killed Sunday night when their cars collided on a Douglas County road seven miles east of Solon Springs. Killed were Charles E. Garvey, 68, and Henry Flamang, 67.

Garvey was a retired forest ranger for the Wisconsin Conservation Department, having served many years at Gordon, Wis. He was also a lieutenant colonel in the old Wisconsin State Guard and was prominent in American Legion activities in the Douglas County area for many years.

Mark Garrity, 52, of Milwaukee was killed near his home Sunday when his car was struck by a flatbed truck trailer which came loose from the cab and crossed into Garrity's lane.

Roger W. Peterson, 36, of rural Kenosha died Sunday when his car struck a tree after leaving State 31 about four miles southwest of Kenosha.

Vincent Weddige, 53, of Beloit died Sunday when thrown from his car which went out of control on U. S. 51 near Merrill.

Wayne Monson, 22, of rural Strum was injured fatally

Saturday night when his car failed to make a curve on a Trempealeau County road. He had recently returned from military service in Vietnam.

Thomas Thomas, 9, of rural Darlington was killed Saturday when a tractor overturned on State 81 while being driven by his father.

Thomas A. Schomann, 23, of Elm Grove died Saturday of injuries suffered in a collision in Milwaukee on Thursday.

Steven Meier, 18, of Minneapolis was killed Saturday night when he was thrown from a car which left a road about four miles south of River Falls.

The Memorial Day National traffic death toll fell short of early estimates made by the National Safety Council, but the loss of life was high.

The toll as the four-day weekend ended was 628. A total of 488 traffic fatalities were counted during a recent nonholiday weekend of the same length.

The safety council estimated the highway toll during the 102-hour holiday weekend would range between 625 and 725. Last year, a record 608 persons were killed on the nation's roads during the Memorial Day observance.

"We are generally encouraged with the total below our estimate," a safety council spokesman said. "But the price was still too high. People must become more safety conscious."

The weather generally improved across the nation on the last day of the holiday weekend, but it remained a driving hazard in some areas of the country. Heavy rains hit Florida in advance of Hurricane Abby. Scattered showers dampened many of the southeastern and Gulf states.

The record traffic toll for any warm weather holiday period is 732, set during the four-day, Independence Day observance last year.

Shooting Rumor Starts Violence

Curfew Called for Natchez In Attempt to Halt Rioting

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — Jolted by a downtown riot, this river city spent a tightly buttoned up night under rigid curfew as police clamped down to prevent further violence.

"If things stay quiet I think the curfew will be lifted Wednesday," said City Atty. Joseph Zuccaro. "I expect the liquor ban to be lifted then, too."

With the city of 5,000 population under emergency law, 175 highway patrolmen were on hand to back up the 2-man police force.

The city, Adams County — and Vidalia, La., across the Mississippi River bridge from here — were shut down from 8:30 p.m. Sunday until 5:30 a.m. today except for travelers and certain exemptions, such as physicians or residents moving to or from jobs.

Patrols were everywhere in the city, a one-time Ku Klux Klan stronghold.

Except for neighborhood dogs, keyed to nervous alert by the strangeness of it all, little moved along the hilly streets. People who ventured out were stopped, questioned, frequently searched and sometimes arrested.

Zuccaro, named city spokesman by the Board of Aldermen, said 15 curfew violation arrests were recorded before midnight — in addition to 114 arrested during the day on concealed weapon charges.

Mayor John Nossor and the aldermen imposed temporary curfew and banned the sale of alcoholic beverages, guns, ammunition and knives after a riot was touched off by a shooting.

Enraged by a false rumor that a white man had killed a Negro, some 300 Negroes rampaged through a downtown section, smashing store windows. Two buildings were burned. Police said that some, but not much, looting was reported.

Nossor said 12 tear gas canisters were thrown and warning shots fired over the heads of the mob at one point.

"We had to do it," said Det. Capt. Frank Rickard. "They rushed us."

Police said the shooting that triggered the riot happened at a service station at 11:58 p.m. Saturday. The riot was under way by 12:30 a.m. Sunday. It wasn't completely put down until 4 a.m.

Three men arrested after the shooting — two young whites from West Monroe, La. and a Natchez Negro — were under $2,000 bond each. Two of them were recovering from pistol bullet wounds.

U.S. Ordered to Drop Its Bombing 'Obstinacy'

PARIS (AP) — A high-ranking member of North Vietnam's Communist leadership arrived to join the peace talks in Paris today and said the second phase of the conferences "can begin without delay" if the United States will drop what he called its "obstinate attitude" and halt the rest of the bombing of his country.

Le Duc Tho arrived here from Hanoi by way of Moscow where he conferred with Soviet leaders Sunday.

The talks here are scheduled to resume Wednesday.

Tho recalled in an airport statement that the talks have been going on for three weeks and he said they are blocked from making progress by the "dilatatory means" of the United States which has refused to halt the bombing and other attacks against North Vietnam.

His attack on the United States was not surprising and ran according to form. His words, however, seemed to be milder than those which have ordinarily been used by Ambassador Xuan Thuy in his talks with Ambassador W. Averell Harriman.

Tho claimed that U.S. and world opinion had supported his country's demand that the United States stop attacking North Vietnam unconditionally.

"Without Delay"

"I am persuaded," he added, "that if the American side renounces its obstinate attitude, the conversations on other problems of interest to the two sides can begin without delay, as our government said in its declaration of May 3, 1968."

He declined to answer questions after issuing his airport statement. His call on the United States to "renounce its obstinate attitude" appeared to be a much milder form of demand than the earlier insistence that the United States must promptly put an end to the bombing.

Hurricane Heads For Florida Coast

'Abby' Due To Slam Into Tampa Area

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Tropical storm Abby grew into a hurricane today in the Gulf of Mexico and aimed her torrential rains and screaming winds at west Florida's heavily populated Tampa Bay area. The weather bureau said the storm would hit at Tampa and cross Florida, emerging near Daytona Beach.

"We are now calling the storm a hurricane," said forecaster Neil Frank at the National Hurricane Center in Miami. "Her top winds are reaching 75 miles per hour in gusts. The storm should reach the Tampa Bay area by late afternoon."

The noon advisory by the center said:

"Abby is forecast to cross the Florida peninsula tonight and early Tuesday and should emerge into the Atlantic near Daytona Beach at noon. Strongest winds will probably be 75 to 80 m.p.h. in squalls as the storm approaches the coast. As it moves overland, however, winds will diminish and may not exceed 60 m.p.h."

At noon, Abby was centered 170 miles south-southwest of Tampa at Latitude 25.6 north and Longitude 83.3 west. The storm was moving northward at about 15 miles per hour.

The weather bureau ordered hurricane warnings along a 200-mile strip of west coast, from Marco Island northward to Tarpon Springs, north of Tampa.

Abby whipped up early Sunday, the second day of the six-month hurricane season, near Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula. Dr. Robert H. Simpson, director of the hurricane center, described development of the storm as a "screwball situation" caused by the merging of a cold front with a low pressure system.

Moving about 15 m.p.h., Abby crossed the western tip of Cuba where she dumped about a foot of rain in 36 hours. Reports from the Communist island said 10 houses collapsed and 3,851 persons were evacuated in Pinar del Rio Province and the Isle of Pines.

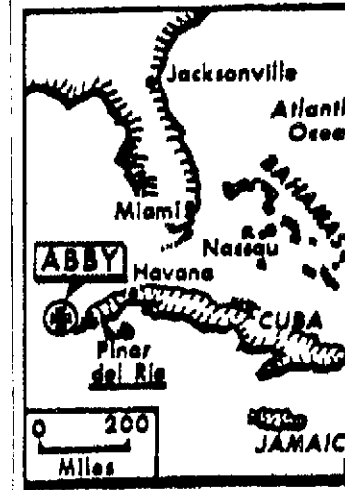

The storm developed on the eve of a meeting in Miami between U.S. and Mexican officials to develop a mutual assistance pact in tracking hurricanes and aiding storm victims.

Schools were closed throughout the Florida Keys as Abby crossed Cuba and headed toward Florida, sucking up the warm life-giving waters of the gulf.

Former Vice President Richard Nixon's GOP presidential campaign was affected by the storm. Nixon chartered two planes and a boat Sunday to take a large group of newsmen and aides to Walkers Cay in the Bahamas Islands, where he planned to spend the weekend.

Sunset today at 8:32 p.m., Sunrise tomorrow at 5:11 a.m. The Moon, at First Quarter tonight, sets tomorrow at 1:43 a.m.

'Loved the Game So Much' Golfer Buried at 18th Green

STOW, Mass. (AP) — Edward Faber of Mansfield loved to play golf so much he wanted to be buried by the 18th green of the Stow Acres Country Club.

Faber died Feb. 14 at the age of 62. A memorial service was held at dusk Saturday on the 18th green. Sunday golfers noted with some incredulity the grave covering of flowers with two golf balls nestled in the stems.

Faber requested in his will that his cremated remains be buried on the course he so often played.

Robert Page, who owns the course with a brother, said "Some people thought it was a joke. Later, when they believed, they thought we were out of our minds. But we are serious. We think it is kind of nice."

Faber's widow said she was still somewhat taken aback by her husband's request, although "he talked often of it."

"What He Wanted"

"He just loved the game so much," she said, "and this is what he really wanted, so I think it is nice. I am happy."

She said she was surprised and pleased by the cooperation of the owners.

"It wasn't easy to have to call them and say that my husband wanted to be buried on the green. I mean how do you explain something like that?"

The Page brothers said they were first stunned by the request but felt honored.

They said some of the club members seemed a bit upset, but one later added, "It'll turn out all right. Who knows, the players might even find it a help. Some golfer might overshoot the green and there will be a friendly hand now to tap the ball back toward the green."

U.S. Mistake Kills 6 Top Saigon Officials

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command launched a full-scale investigation today into the mis-firing of a rocket by an American helicopter gunship that killed six key South Vietnamese officials and seemed likely to place new strains on U.S.-Vietnamese relations.

American officials were visibly shaken and appeared concerned about repercussions from the incident. An editorial, anti-American in tone, appeared in the Saigon Daily News, under the heading, "An Accident Too Many."

As the latest wave of fighting in the capital area went into its 10th day, South Vietnamese military headquarters reported that 600 to 800 fresh Viet Cong troops had slipped into the northern suburb of Gia Dinh, 2 1/2 miles from the center of Saigon.

This coincided with an allied communique stating that 1,019 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were killed in and around the capital during the week ending last Saturday. South Vietnamese troops, who were said to have done most of the fighting, reported their own casualties as light. U.S. forces listed six Americans killed and 32 wounded for the period.

The rocket explosion Sunday also wounded four other officials, including Saigon's mayor. The Vietnamese were hit while observing operations against Viet Cong soldiers holding out in buildings in Cholon, the Chinese district in southwestern Saigon.

The rocket decimated the top echelon of the Saigon city administration.

Those killed were Col. Pho Quoc Chu, the director of the port of Saigon and Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky's brother-in-law; Col. Nguyen Van Luan, the Saigon police chief; Col. Le Ngoc Tru, commander of Saigon's 5th Police Precinct; Maj. Nguyen Ngoc Xinh, chief of staff of joint operations for the national police; Maj. Nguyen Bao Thuy, chief of the Saigon mayor's cabinet and brother of the former minister of revolutionary development, and Lt. Col. Dao Ba Phuoc, commander of the 5th Ranger Group.

The wounded were Saigon's Col. Van Van Cua; Col. Tran Van Phan, chief of staff of the national police director; Col. Nguyen Van Giam, deputy chief of the capital military district; and Maj. Le Ngoc To, commander of the 5th Combat Police Battalion.

Newsmen visiting the scene inspected fragments of a rocket which officers identified as the type used by American helicopters.

U.S. Ambassador Samuel D. Berger sent his "deepest regrets and condolences" to the South Vietnamese government and to the families of the officials.

absolutely be determined what happened."

U.S. air strikes normally are called in by local Vietnamese commanders who certify the target area is under enemy control.

U.S. Ambassador Samuel D. Berger sent his "deepest regrets and condolences" to the South Vietnamese government and to the families of the officials.

One officer said Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, ordered that no further American air strikes may be called in Saigon or its suburbs without his approval, but a U.S. military spokesman declined to comment on this.

The U.S. Mission said one rocket from an American helicopter malfunctioned and "there is a strong probability that the rocket which fell in the vicinity of the officials' ment was overthrown. South Vietnamese troops dragged him from the church and assassinated him inside an armored personnel carrier nearby."

Diem's Assassination

The late President Ngo Dinh Diem took refuge in the same church in 1963 after his government was overthrown. South Vietnamese troops dragged him from the church and assassinated him inside an armored personnel carrier nearby.

Court Voids Death By 'Hanging Jury'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The death sentence cannot be imposed by a jury from which persons with conscientious or religious scruples against capital punishment were automatically excluded, the Supreme Court ruled 5 to 4 today.

"No defendant can constitutionally be put to death at the challenge for cause those prospective jurors who say their reservations about capital punishment would prevent them from making an impartial decision as to a defendant's guilt or innocence," the court said.

Stewart said it had not been squared with the Constitution, shown that the Witherspoon jury was biased with respect to his majority found the state "stacked the deck" against Wil-

It is self-evident that, in its role as arbiter of the punishment to be imposed, this jury was woefully short of that impartiality to which the petitioner was entitled under the 6th and 14th Amendments."

One of the dissenters, Hugo L. Black, said from the bench that the majority "is making new law."

The court did not deal with the constitutionality of the death penalty itself. Nor did it disturb the right of the prosecution to challenge for cause those prospective jurors who say their reservations about capital punishment would prevent them from making an impartial decision as to a defendant's guilt or innocence.

Vietnamese Gorge Themselves With Loot

By JOHN T. WHEELER
SAIGON (AP) — The Vietnamese soldier jogged down the street with three radios stolen from a Chinese store on the fringe of a four-block area filled with Viet Cong snipers.

His sergeant across the street hollered: "Hey, you! Where are you going with all those radios? Why do you take so many? You only need one."

The soldier grinned sheepishly but dropped only one radio. The sergeant ambled across the debris-littered street, picked up the radio and tied it to his field pack.

Lulls in the street fighting now going on in Saigon offer an apparently irresistible temptation to the poorly paid South Vietnamese soldier whose idea of luxury normally is a stolen chicken to supplement his poor food ration.

Tank men who didn't need to worry about the extra weight, "liberated" large numbers of radios. One army truck was seen loading up with television sets. Several policemen joined in the raids on the radios and other items.

Expensive Cigarettes

Liquor bottles, shoes and canned food could be seen peeking from many field packs.

Several soldiers passed around British cigarettes, the most expensive smoker's item on the black market. Soldiers displayed shiny new American gas lighters, and some wore gold or silver tie clasps on the fronts of their dirty uniforms.

Sometimes the looting seems directly tied to how heavy the fighting is. When they are on the move and attacking, the soldiers seem to pass up luxury items although they do scoop up food, soft drinks and cigarettes wherever they find them.

Some of the troops fired bursts from their M16 rifles to break the locks on the steel shutters protecting the fronts of shops in the area.

Many businessmen stuck to their stores to prevent looting even though endangered by the fighting. Since the outbreak of street fighting in Saigon during the Viet Cong's Tet offensive last February, there have been repeated complaints not only of looting but of senseless smashing of whatever could not be carried off.

Vietnamese, Chinese and American homes all have been hit.

The situation has done nothing to improve the government's image or to convince the people of Saigon that the soldiers are their protectors against Viet Cong depredations.

Getting Back

However, there is an added dimension to the looting in Cholon, the Chinese section of Saigon, where much of the current fighting is now taking place. The Vietnamese have always disliked the Chinese because of their domination of commerce. Like some looters in the United States, the soldiers may feel that they are only getting back a little of what has been squeezed out of them in the past.

French Told Patriotism Demands End to Strike

Smaller Businesses Starting to Reopen, but Most Workers Idle

PARIS (AP) — Premier Georges Pompidou declared today "it is a national duty" of French strikers to return to their jobs. He added that a back-to-work tendency is being noted almost everywhere in the nation.

Pompidou, meeting newsmen at his Matignon residence, gave no figures on the returning groups, so far largely limited to smaller businesses and administration agencies. The mass of the 10 million strikers showed no signs of budging.

The premier said the strikes, now nearly three weeks old, are costing France 2 per cent of its gross national product a week, or the equivalent of about $2 billion.

Return Quickly

"Work must resume as quickly as possible," Pompidou said. "Peace and tranquility of the country are involved. The paralysis that has lasted several weeks is now beginning to affect everyone."

"We must try to pick up the lag before the end of the year. Today it is a national duty to get back to work."

Pompidou confirmed that the government will hold to its May 27 agreement to increase the price of medicines. The refunds were cut down by the government in its revision of the social security system last fall, and this has been one of the sore points with the unions.

Workers have called off their strike at some small provincial factories. There was a possibility that postal service would be resumed this week. But other main sectors of the economy remain paralyzed as the general strike enters its third week.

There seems little chance that things will return to normal Tuesday after the three-day Pentecost weekend.

Public transport is still frozen, the schools are closed and industry is still. However, strike-employer negotiations are continuing in most fields where a deadlock has not produced a rupture.

Representatives of striking railroad and urban transport workers kept talks going with the government through a union leader said the "restrictive attitude of the Transportation Ministry" was "inadmissible."

Railroad Demands

The railroad workers are demanding salary increases of up to 19 per cent for the lowest paid employees and 15 per cent for the highest paid.

Leaders of striking employees of the state gas and electricity works reported progress in their negotiations but said rank and file must have the final voice. However, the supply of gas and electricity has been normal throughout the strike.

Rome Student Fight Entered by Police

ROME (AP) — Riot police cut through the barricaded gate of the embattled University of Rome today and moved into the leftist-occupied campus to break up fighting between rival student groups.

The police action was grimly formal. First an official donned the tricolor sash that signified he acted in the name of the republic. Then a trumpet tooted three shrill blasts that meant "this is official."

Then a huge pair of metal clippers was used to cut the chain with which red-flag leftist students and black-flag anarchists locked the gates three days ago when they occupied the university.

It was the first time riot police have moved onto the campus since March when hundreds of students and police were injured in fierce fighting there.

The action today came after a battle that lasted almost an hour between 300 antileftist students attacking from the outside and nearly 2,000 battling to hold their control over the campus.

At least 10 students were carried away to hospitals.

The attackers broke through part of the gate and poured onto the campus, hurling rocks and flaming bundles of rags.

The defenders, charging into the fray with cries of "Ho Chi Minh," drove them back.

At that point a handful of police who had tried in vain to keep the rival factions apart called for reinforcements.

They moved onto the campus at the request of university authorities.

The students occupying the campus fell back before the official police entry without resistance. Many slipped off the campus by back exits.

The prospect of a government crisis and continued social unrest hung over the country only two weeks after the national elections.

Premier Aldo Moro, whose Christian Democrats made gains in the election, will submit his resignation after the new Parliament convenes Wednesday.

This is required by custom after a national election, but Moro has no hopes of again forming a government with the center-left coalition he had led for the past five years.

His Socialist partners, who suffered losses in the voting, blamed them on the alliance with Moro's party and decided Saturday night to quit the coalition.

The 280,000 postal workers decide today whether to return to work. They were to consider a "protocol agreement" reached in principle at a weekend negotiating session.

Talks with leaders of 600,000 other government employees had not yet produced any agreement.

A spokesman for the union representing the nation's 600,000 teachers said the schools will remain closed Tuesday.

News Controls

At the government radio and television networks, the principal demand of a new union of journalists and technicians was independence from the tight government control which President Charles de Gaulle's regime has exercised. The television network still was airing only news broadcasts by non-strikers.

Bank employees were to meet Tuesday to pass on a provisional salary agreement. If the agreement is accepted, the banks presumably could reopen on Wednesday.

The sectors where there has been some movement included the coal mines, where there has been a partial return to work; oil refiners, which have resumed production or will resume, and Paris department stores, where employee approval of a salary agreement was expected Tuesday.

Textile Mill Explosion Fatal to Three

CLEMSON, S. C. (AP) — Three men were killed and nine injured today in a pre-dawn explosion which ripped through a finishing room at the Utica-Mohawk textile plant of J. P. Stevens & Co.

Fire equipment and personnel from throughout this northwestern South Carolina area helped fight the roaring blaze which followed the blast. It was first feared other bodies might be in the debris but officers said later the three dead and nine injured were believed to be the only casualties.

The explosion was believed to have occurred in a gas line or gas furnace.

It knocked a 100 foot hole in the ceiling and knocked down a concrete wall partition. Machinery in the room was crushed by the force of the blast.

No monetary estimate of damage was immediately available.

15 Turks Killed During Election

ISTANBUL (AP) — Fifteen persons were killed and 47 injured Sunday as Turkish voters chose local officials and a number of national legislators.

Among the victims were a candidate shot to death by a rival and a man fatally stabbed by his brother in political argument at a polling place.

Incomplete returns showed the ruling Justice Party, which is conservative and pro-American, in the lead. The Republican People's party was running second with the anti-American Marxist Turkish Labor Party third.

At stake were 53 of the 183 Senate seats, five of the 450 National Assembly seats and more than 215,000 local offices.

Private Disqualified From Racing His Tank

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Pfc. Peter Pitcock won't get to race his tank in the Portland Rose Festival sports car races this weekend.

The Portland soldier mailed a properly filled-out form from Vietnam, entering his favorite tank in the annual event on behalf of his Army unit.

Officials said they disqualified Pitcock because he failed to submit his entry fee.

Humphrey's No Hot-Rodder

But Humphrey's guests don't have to worry about being driven too fast. Humphrey drives a restored Model T which is inclined to shimmy a little when the roads get too rough.

Just a Neighbor

"I'm going to have to take off the front wheels and put in new ball bearings but I haven't had time to get to it," Humphrey said Sunday as he led a motorcade of newsmen, photographers and staff members on a trip around his home on Lake Waverly and to see the town and some of his neighbors.

The people around Waverly don't call Humphrey "Mr. Vice President," as is usually done around Washington. They appear to view him solely as a neighbor, one who has lived in the area for 12 years and has built up a handsome spread.

The lack of formalities and awe doesn't bother Humphrey. "That's just fine with me... I have very good friends and then they don't become withdrawn."

Most of these friends missed Humphrey at the Saturday night firemen's ball in Waverly. Humphrey promised to be at a dance for him June 15. He told newsmen accompanying him, "I want you fellows to stay in shape for that dance. When we dance in Waverly, we really dance."

Humphrey's home, he explained, started with the same hands.

Ban on Discrimination by Age in Employment Effective Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Too old of an industry affecting interstate commerce. Starting next week it will be against federal law for most out limitation, are forbidden to employment agencies to tell you because of age.

It is also against the law to use printed advertisements for workers that indicate any preference, limitation or discrimination based on age.

A new law protecting persons 40 to 65 from employment discrimination because of age goes into effect June 12.

The law is designed to promote the employment of older workers based on their ability and to prohibit arbitrary age agencies and labor unions discrimination in employment," said the Labor Department.

The Age Discrimination in Employment Act was passed by Congress and signed by President Johnson last year.

It forbids employers to refuse to hire—or to fire a person—because of age or to pay different wage rates or lesser job benefits on the basis of age.

Seniority Systems

The law exempts bona fide seniority systems and pension plans, but says pension plans—which are more costly for newly hired older workers—cannot be used as an excuse to refuse to hire an individual.

Labor organizations are forbidden to exclude or to expel anyone from membership because of age, or to refuse to refer a worker for employment. Nor can unions attempt to cause an employer to discriminate against an individual because of age.

This applies to all employers, and labor organizations with 25 or more employees, or members ties will be given an opportunity to present arguments and evidence before a decision is made.

Individuals who prove discrimination can collect back wages through lawsuits when attempts to secure voluntary compliance fail.

Individuals who prove discrimination in court can collect attorneys' fees and court costs in addition to back pay. In cases where willful violation is proved, they can collect up to double the amount of back pay.

Uncertain Congress In Hurry to Adjourn

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A weary and uncertain Congress, fearing a negative national mood toward political incumbents, is eager to close out a lethargic session marked by decreasing congressional influence on major issues.

Consequently, Congress resumed work today following a brief Memorial Day break, far behind schedule but determined to finish early and adjourn for the political campaigns.

"Members always talk about adjourning early but this time they really seem to mean it," said one House aide.

Major Events

Important events beyond Congress' control such as President Johnson's withdrawal from the presidential campaign, Vietnam peace talks, the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and city riots following his slaying have produced wariness and uncertainty in the House and Senate, especially among the majority Democrats. This was clear from numerous private conversations with members.

26 Acres

Humphrey has 26 acres along the lake, a handsome home with five bedrooms, a swimming pool, a boathouse, a sauna, a bathhouse, a guest house and two house trailers now set in place and painted green. One is used for the Secret Service guard detail, the other for office space.

Parked in the driveway are two of the household's star attractions, the Model T and the Model A which Humphrey refers to as "jewels."

Humphrey says he likes to work on the cars because "I like to do something besides politics... I like to work with my hands."

Senators Campaigning

Republican Whip Thomas Kuchel, seeking re-election, has been in California since April preparing for Tuesday's primary and Democratic Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon was here only twice in May as he fought the contest that last week gave him a slim margin for nomination to a fifth term.

The arrival of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference's Poor People's Campaign in Washington was accompanied by some congressional action on antioverty proposals.

The Senate acted last week in two areas emphasized by the Poor People's Campaign—housing and food.

It passed and sent to the House a $5 billion housing measure that had been scheduled weeks ago, then moved to eliminate restrictions that have prevented increased federal food shipments to poverty areas.

Future in House

But both measures face an uncertain fate in the House, and there seems little likelihood of major legislation in other areas such as employment.

Although much of President Johnson's legislative program appears fated for oblivion, such bills as open housing and interest disclosure have already been passed. Action also is likely on the tax increase, anti-crime bill, fish and poultry inspection, higher education extension and manpower training program.

But Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has said adjournment depends on the progress of the appropriations bills.

Only 5 of the 13 money bills for the year starting July 1 have cleared the House, one has passed the Senate and none have reached the White House.

Prober of Mars Must be Highly Mobile, Smart

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Any space probe sent to Mars in hopes of finding life will have to be highly mobile and programmed to search intelligently, a researcher at the California Institute of Technology says.

"The prospects of landing an instrument package by chance alone on a rich, populated spot seem pretty bleak," says Charles N. David, a graduate student in biology.

David is one of three Caltech scientists who spent three months in Antarctica in an effort to determine what difficulties would be encountered in searching for life in the cold, barren deserts of Mars.

The project produced evidence as to what types of microscopic life might be encountered in such an area and what landmarks should be used in searching for them.

Veterans Receive Regal Treatment

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP) — Two platoons of Vietnam veterans, paratroopers from the 82nd Airborne Division's 3rd Brigade, received VIP treatment when they returned home this weekend for two-week leaves.

The 165 paratroopers have completed their Vietnam duty but have signed on to complete full tours there. They were processed quickly and issued partial pay, airline tickets and new khaki uniforms, with on-the-spot uniform pressing service.

Housing Ordinance Needs Study

The unanimous recommendation of the Welfare and Ordinance Committee of the Appleton City Council that a citizens committee be appointed to make a detailed study of a possible open housing ordinance for the city is an enlightened action. We hope the full council will endorse it.

This is an area of municipal legislation which can benefit by detailed study and community discussion. The mere adoption of the new federal law in toto, or of the model ordinance suggested by the state, would not be in the best interests of Appleton or any other community. In the end there should be confidence that such an ordinance fits the particular needs of the community.

A similar committee has been at work in Green Bay for some months now and it has developed some interesting new ideas on an effective local ordinance. Eight honor students at St. Norbert College made a detailed study of local ordinances across the country and came up with three areas of discrimination not covered in the state's model draft. Two of them have now been adopted by the committee, one outlawing discrimination by overcharging, the second making it illegal to refuse examination of real estate listings.

The guts of a local ordinance involves a method of providing for local administration and enforcement of open housing statutes at the federal, state and local level. The Green Bay committee has spent considerable time discussing how such enforcement can be made simple, speedy and effective and still protect the legal rights of all concerned.

There is no longer a question if Appleton should adopt a local ordinance; the only question is when. Kaukauna has stepped forward to take the lead among communities in this area, and the mayor and council of that progressive city are to be congratulated. In the meantime, however, there can be no criticism of Appleton aldermen if they wish to proceed cautiously and conduct a detailed study of the matter. For study by a special committee will also be a process for public education.

Rights of Illegitimate Children

Most states long ago tried to remove some of the stigma attached to illegitimate children on the grounds that their status was not their fault and they should not have to suffer for the sins of their parents. Now the United States Supreme Court has taken an even stronger step which will influence legislation in many states.

The cases involved were from Louisiana. The five illegitimate children of a domestic servant sought to sue a physician for allegedly causing her death by neglect but Louisiana courts ruled that illegitimate children did not have this right as do legitimate children. In the other case, the mother of an illegitimate child was denied the right to sue in the child's death.

But the Supreme Court overruled the decisions by a 6 to 3 ruling. It is "invidious," the majority decision stated, to distinguish between legitimate and illegitimate children in such a way since they had nothing whatever to do with the situation in which they find themselves. It is now also unconstitutional.

Although some states do not have specific laws prohibiting such actions as suits involving the parents of illegitimate children or the children themselves, many do spell out separate rights in inheritance that are anything but equal. Wisconsin law is more liberal than that of many states and specifies that "every child born out of wedlock . . . shall in all cases be considered as heir of his mother and shall inherit . . . her estate, in whole or in part, as the case may be, in the same manner as if he had been born in lawful wedlock." He shall inherit from his father if the latter has acknowledged parenthood under certain conditions. "But he shall not be allowed to claim, as representing his father or mother, any part of the estate of his or her kindred, either lineal or collateral, unless before his death he shall have been legitimated by the marriage of his parents." This latter qualification would appear to be discrimination against an illegitimate child.

Certainly there will now be a flood of cases, not so much involving suits of or for illegitimate children but in cases of inheritance. There will have to be some law rewriting in most states of the union.

The idea that illegitimate children should be at a disadvantage comes from a moral judgement but an erroneous idea of human behavior.

Persuading Japan to Help Other Asians

The United States went to war to prevent Japan from succeeding in its glowingly-named Asiatic co-prosperity plans almost three decades ago. Now our government is trying to persuade Japanese leaders to take a larger role in the same sort of an effort but not advanced at the point of a gun.

The United States Information Service was recently a co-sponsor of a seminar of news executives from eight northern Japanese states at the hot springs resort of Iizaka Spa. The commercial news media of Fukushima, the state where Iizaki is located, shared the sponsorship.

Speakers included Herman Barger, former director of the New Asia Development Bank; Kenneth Young, resident of the Asia Society of New York and former ambassador to Thailand; and Koichi Komura, chief of the economic cooperation section of the Japanese foreign ministry. The emphasis of all three was on the importance of Japanese leadership in economic matters in the Far East.

Barger suggested an Alliance for Progress in Asia program, while Young said that regional economic development might be the best way of overcoming Red China's defiant isolationism. Komura agreed that Japan would have to soften terms for loans but said that opposition to such assistance to other countries came mainly because of some "pockets of stagnation" within Japan itself.

The reluctance seems to go much deeper than that. Japan was badly hurt by its defeat in World War II. Through a combination of intelligent American leadership in the occupation and the determination of Japanese leaders and the general public to overcome the immense handicaps of the defeat and the years of military emphasis, Japan is now a thriving nation with its major problem at the present time a lack of skilled workers for further industrial expansion. The casual visitor sees little evidence of those pockets of stagnation or anything to compare for instance with the grinding poverty in United States cities or some rural areas of the deep south.

Looking Backward

'Sheriff Draws Trusty Revolver'

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Post for May 21, 1868.

Encounter with Burglars — Our city (Appleton), in common with others in the State, is infested with a petty gang of thieves, and still more villainous desperadoes.

Last Tuesday evening as some boys were playing near Judge (George) Myers' residence, one of them jumping over the fence in the Judge's yard to hide from his companions, found himself in close proximity to a man who lay concealed behind some currant bushes. The man questioned him as to who lived in the house, whether he was a wealthy man, and whether there were any meetings that evening.

As soon as the boy could get away, he went to Sheriff White and told him as to what he observed. Later in the evening four men were seen prowling around some of the stores on the Avenue, and, as they were in a slightly inebriated condition, the Sheriff proceeded to arrest them. To this proceeding they seemed to object and one of them succeeded in getting the Sheriff's head "in chancery" and pounded him severely.

The Sheriff then drew his revolver and, placing it against the man's body, fired. He immediately relaxed his hold and left, followed by his accomplices.

Several of the citizens patrolled the streets until a late hour looking for the desperados, but finding none. It is hoped the wound inflicted by the Sheriff may prove mortal.

Kraft Writes

Humphrey Capitalizing on Current National Mood to Build Dem Lead

BY JOSEPH KRAFT

WASHINGTON — As the Presidential primaries reach a climax it is evident that the leader in the race for the Democratic nomination is the man who has stayed out — Hubert Humphrey. But the sources of the vice-president's strength suggest a vulnerability to events and special dependence upon his delicate personal relation with President Johnson.

The big thing the vice-president has going for him is the national mood. With peace talks under way and the President himself no longer in contention, two prime sources of national controversy have been set aside. The country, as witness action on the crime bill and the tax bill and reaction to the Columbia troubles and the Poor People's Campaign, feels that dissent and criticism have done their office.

There is a weariness with problems and divisions. People want to hear of success and harmony. The nation is looking for a spell of peace and quiet with a comfortable candidate. BOBBY TONES DOWN

To meet that mood Senator Robert Kennedy has had to tone down his rhetoric and sound like Richard Nixon, if not Ronald Reagan, on the theme of law and order.

Kraft

Senator Eugene McCarthy has reined in his ardent hordes of youth while giving maximum play to his own easy television style.

But Hubert Humphrey has not had to make any special effort. As all his characteristics suggest — his disposition to talk endlessly, his early support for countless good causes, his fundamental decency, his weakness of staff — he is by nature a man who likes to please, an evangelist in public affairs, a political salesman.

On trips around the country, whether with old or young, business or labor, black or white, Humphrey can establish rapport. Even the record of his not unstormy past achievement he recites in the accent of Norman Vincent Peale. Nobody, or at least hardly anybody, hates Hubert Humphrey, and that is why he does so well in the polls.

For the same reason, all the Democratic Party leaders who must themselves rule over divided constituencies lean towards Humphrey. A good example are the Southern Governors.

COULD LOSE SOUTH

Former Governor George Wallace of Alabama, running as an independent, and a Republican such as former Vice President Nixon, not to mention Governor Reagan of California, would surely exert an important appeal throughout the South this fall. With a figure as controversial as Kennedy heading the ticket, the Democrats could well lose every Southern state.

But with Humphrey running against Wallace and Nixon in a three-man race, the Southern Democrats figure they can do well — better in fact than they did against Goldwater in 1964, Nixon in 1960, and Eisenhower in 1956 and 1952. Not unnaturally, the Southerners are hot for Humphrey.

Division of a different kind obtains in the big cities. Virtually every major Northern city is now dominated by racial politics, and a chief function of mayors is to try to hold together organizations comprising warring ethnic groups.

While Kennedy is surefire stuff with the Negroes, he has to prove (as he has in some primaries) that he can appeal to low-income whites. Humphrey, under no special disadvantage with the whites, is probably popular enough with the blacks to carry the Negro vote against any Republican ticket.

That is not to say that every word or deed of Sen. Jones from North Overshoe, Wis., is heard or heeded by the rank and file voters of the state, contrary to the belief of some of the more self-conscious of the representatives in any legislature.

LABOR COOL TO BOBBY

Lastly, there are state parties prey to factional fights between labor and the regular party officials. Ohio, where strife between party leaders and unions kept the party weak since 1958, is a particular case in point. This year the party and union leaders got together to back John Gilligan in his victorious race against Senator Frank Lausche in the Democratic primary last month.

But the labor leaders, for many reasons including his racket-busting activities and his strong opposition to AFL-CIO president George Meany on foreign policy, are deeply at odds with Senator Kennedy. The party people, having finally buried the hatchet with labor, are not eager to begin a new break now. As a result, Ohio, one of the truly decisive states, is tending strongly towards Humphrey.

This overwhelming strength, however, is predicated on the mood of the moment, on the tendency to avoid trouble and find comfort. That mood could be rapidly changed by either a break in the Vietnamese peace effort or another outburst of racial violence in the cities.

In each case, new accents would be put on grappling effectively with national problems. Divisions would be forced to the surface, and personal dissatisfaction with President Johnson's leadership.

Vice-President Humphrey has plainly been trying to position himself for such a development by taking his distances from the President on matters of detail — particularly with respect to Vietnam. But in an atmosphere of crisis, when the chips are down, will he then show that he is not the President's man, but his own? Nobody really knows the answer to that question yet.

Experience in State Legislature Brings Many Opportunities

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Readers who have noted the comments at intervals in this state about the prolific character of the state legislature as a hatchery for political leaders and occupants of higher and more important state offices may wonder about the reasons.

Why does legislative service give a man the exposure and the experience, and more important, the confidence, to run for higher places and often succeed that are not offered in any of the lower offices of the ballot except perhaps that of district attorney in the larger counties?

The reasons are numerous. Perhaps first among them is the fact that the normal legislature consists of a majority of quite ordinary men. This is not meant as disparagement. Indeed, the constitution intended the legislature to be "representative." In that context the people of Wisconsin are probably a little more fortunate than the constitutional fathers thought they deserved, for the typical legislator, taken as a whole, is a cut above the body politic, in education, experience, competence, judgment, diligence and other attributes.

CAN MAKE IMPRESSION

Notwithstanding, the man of above ordinary quality who would scarcely be noticed outside of his own town if he served as mayor or county board chairman is able to make some impression upon the state when he serves in Madison.

That is not to say that every word or deed of Sen. Jones from North Overshoe, Wis., is heard or heeded by the rank and file voters of the state, contrary to the belief of some of the more self-conscious of the representatives in any legislature.

The exposure is more subtle, but equally effective. A productive and energetic member of the legislature with enough seniority to attain rank and with it some power to get things done attracts the attention of a small but perhaps equally important audience.

Strictly Personal

Why Should Schools Teach How to Drive?

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Several years ago I was battered from attacks all over the country when I ventured to suggest that the "driver education" programs in the nation's high schools were most likely a waste of time, money and energy.

Now, a traffic safety com-

mittee named by former Sec. John W. Gardner of the U.S. Health, Education and Welfare Department reported last month that there is "no certainty and much doubt" that the multimillion-dollar investment in driver education actually makes better teen-age drivers.

After many years of a widespread program (more than 1.5 million students took school driver training courses last year alone), there is no clear evidence that driver education "has significant favorable effect upon driver attitudes, performance or other achievements," the report said. A continuation of the present program would "squander vast public sums" in the process, the committee warned.

There is an even more important point involved. Why should a high school teach young people how to drive, which is a purely private skill, having no relationship to edu-

This consists of the opinion-makers in political organizations, the big and influential economic groupings representing both management and labor, hundreds of special interest lobbyists who send their private messages to their own attentive constituencies, and the press.

EXPOSURE IS BROAD

It is not to boast about it but to tell the simple truth, that the Wisconsin legislature works under a hotter light of publicity than most of those in this country and perhaps than in any other state. This reporter has periodically visited other state capitals. Press coverage of state government affairs in general is often primitive by comparison with the standards that have long prevailed in Wisconsin, a comparatively small state in economic terms, whatever the consumer of capital news may sometimes think.

Another important factor is that the legislature is a fruitful training ground in the liberal sense. The state legislator who is willing to work can acquaint himself with a multitude of statewide issues and problems from his vantage point more effectively than any other that comes to mind.

The legislator learns to express himself through practice during half a dozen sessions. With a better understanding of public affairs and with more confidence in his communications ability, he realizes that there is no real reason why he cannot aspire to higher places with as much right and plausibility as more prominent men in private life, or men of greater means, or age, or social and business or professional prestige.

LEONARD IS EXAMPLE

The example of Jerris Leonard, who at the age of 37 is the nominee presumptive of the Wisconsin Republican party for a seat in the United States Senate, where once sat such gains as Clay and Calhoun and Taft and Webster. Jefferson Davis, Douglas and the rest, is a case in point. When he came to Madison as a stripling of 25 years only 12 years ago he had no such notions in mind.

But he probably concluded, as the late John F. Kennedy once remarked to somebody who somewhat incredulously asked him how he got the idea of running for the presidency at his youthful age, that somebody is going to get the job.

cation, and diverting public funds from the real task of educating boys and girls as human beings?

The whole idea of compulsory mass public education in America — and it was a fine and revolutionary idea when it was conceived — was to raise everyone to the intellectual and cultural level of the founders of our nation, so that self-government was as broadly based as possible.

An ignorant people obviously cannot govern themselves intelligently.

But, more and more, we have drifted away from our initial idea. Our prime purpose is no longer to turn out informed and reasonable citizens, but to instruct in various vocational and manual skills. Proficiency in sports and the ability to earn a living seem to have become the prime goals of our modern school system.

A dummy who drives a car well is still a dummy. Learning how to drive a car, like learning how to dance or hit a ball or make fudge or fix a bicycle, is something that should be earned at home, not at school. And the more time the school devotes to these marginal matters, the more dummies it will continue to turn out.

It is true that poor driving kills people. But poor thinking kills even more people — in riots, wars, social revolutions, and assorted mass irrationalities.

The schools are charged with the task of turning out people who can drive their own minds and steer their own passions. Any time taken away from this prime task increases civilization's chances of spinning right off the precipice of fate.

Attic Theatre Expands 10-Day Dance Training

Mrs. Clyda Bellinger to Teach Men's Class, Extra Women's Group This Year

BY JINGO

The summer blooming Attic Theatre has come up with a new workshop project — or more exactly — an expanded idea in its perusal of The Dance.

There will be a special session of modern dancing for Men. Only this summer to supplement the women's classes which have been going on for three seasons. The reason for the addition of a men's class this year lies in the fact that enough men asked for it when tryouts were held for the season's musical, "Pajama Game."

So, Attic has set up its series over the two-week period from June 10 through June 21 with the men's Monday through Friday classes scheduled for 7 to 8 p.m. Two series have been set for women to accommodate both morning and evening students. This extra women's class also is based on the popularity of the community Theater's workshop.

The classes for female students will be held Monday through Friday from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. to catch the early birds and from 8 to 9 p.m. for those who work at jobs which don't allow for morning dancing classes.

All classes are open to the public with no age restrictions and, probably more important to some, no previous dancing requirements. There is a fee for the 10 classes and those interested may contact Attic workshop chairman Mrs. John Viossak, 1044 E. Eldorado St., or instructor choreographer Mrs. Clyda Bellinger, 1915 N. Gillette St.

The courses are aimed at providing both appreciation of The Dance and instruction in basic techniques of stage dancing today. Attic Theatre makes no bones about the fact they hope this will lead to active participation in its productions, particularly yearly musicals. The classes, however, may be joined just for a fun way of getting exercise.

Mrs. Bellinger, who taught modern dance this past year to both men and women students at Lawrence University, conducted last summer's course for Attic Theater. Her important work for the theater was in her choreography for the 1967 musical "Guys and Dolls."

The dancer-choreographer comes to the Fox Valley well qualified. She has been a professional choreographer and dancer in television shows for several years, including those of Peggy Lee and Danny Thomas. Jingo's opinion is that Attic Theatre is fortunate to have someone like Mrs. B. take an interest in its summer program. The movement, pace and color of any musical depends on choreography and here's a talented performer available to bring an always welcome touch of professionalism to the valley's summer theater.

Peyton Place Boasts Usual Complexity

8:30-9 Channels 11-9 — Peyton Place fans had better circle this date on their calendars for the feature of this episode is the wedding ceremony between Rodney (Ryan O'Neal) and Betty (Barbara Parkins). As is to be expected it is not the heart-and-flowers type scene such as we got from Petticoat Junction and My Three Sons. The climax comes when Rev. Tom Inlones. "If any man can show just cause," and as the script says, Betty closes her eyes dreading what might come (C).

6-9 Channel 5 — The first of three evening telecasts of Major League Baseball is from Boston's Fenway Park where the Red Sox meet the Detroit Tigers. Curt Gowdy, Sandy Koufax and Pee-wee Reese are the commentators. (C)

6:30-7:30 Channels 2-12 — It's the Army vs. Matt Dillon and Dodge City on Gunsmoke when Festus is accused of killing a sergeant. (C-R)

6:30-7:30 Channels 11-9 — James Whitmore is always good but seems better when he gets the "heavy" assignment as in tonight's Cowboy in Africa (C-R)

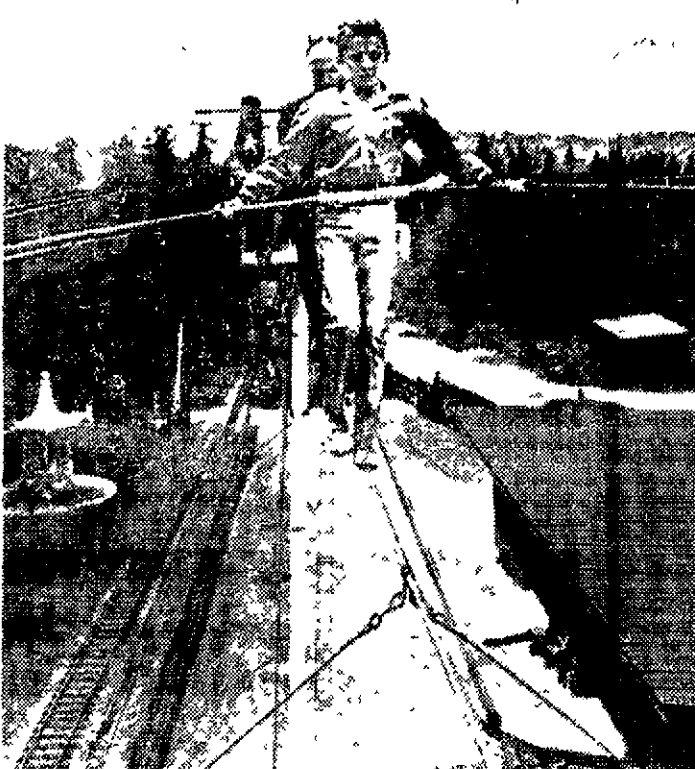

7:30-8 Channels 11-9 — Jack Jones guests on The Rat Patrol and although this may sound ridiculous in print, it really works. He is a G.I. who sings to his German captors to lull them while Sgt. Troy makes his escape (C-R).

7:30-8 Channels 2-12 — The Lucy Show reunites the star and Vivian Vance and tosses in Joan Crawford for good measure. With their car out of order, Lucy and Viv hike to a nearby home and find it devoid of furniture with the lady of the house busily scrubbing the floor while murmuring about not having eaten all day. It's Joan Crawford, playing herself, and the girls immediately believe she is destitute despite her image. Guess the rest (C-R)

8-8:30 Channels 11-9 — Felony Squad comes up with one of the most familiar of all detective story plots and it looks every day of its age. It's the one about an ex-girl friend of the cop whose brother gets in trouble. (C-R)

9-10 Channels 11-9 — There's action aplenty on The Big Valley giving Barbara Stanwyck as strenuous a role as she has had in a long time. Bruce Dern is featured as the leader of a group taking two captives, one a woman, to prison in a torturous prison wagon. (C-R)

9-10 Channel 5 — Kelly de-

Ricky Wallenda, 13, takes his first steps in public on the high wire under the watchful eye of his famous grandfather Karl Wallenda. Ricky's mother Carla, who now heads the renowned family act, watches the pair as they move out on the 50-foot-high wire at the Enchanted Forest in Old Forge, N.Y., where they are appearing. Early Treatment Is the Key to Cure of Cancer

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I had radium insertion in the uterus and also X-ray therapy for cancer — I had a flyspeck of it. Since there is no cure, how can this possibly cure you? — H.G.

Your puzzlement starts from an assumption that isn't so.

You say, "Since there is no than just a flyspeck of it can similarly be eradicated.

According to the latest figures I have seen, more than one-quarter — now nearly one-third of patients with cancer — are being cured. This could readily be increased to at least half — if people would stop putting off having proper examinations.

Such cancers can be cured. Meanwhile, there is gradual but continuing advance in finding other methods of stopping cancer without physically destroying the tissues. Such methods work with some types of cancer, not with others. But we do progress.

Until the day comes when we can stop all cancers by medicinal means, we must make utmost use of the methods we have.

cure" for cancer. But there is.

As far back as George Washington's time, and doubtless long before that, a few cancers were being cured.

Today thousands are being cured.

Cancer is a distinctive, if terrible, disease. Its danger stems from the fact that once it starts, it can spread endlessly. Sooner or later, if it spreads far enough, it will destroy some vital organ.

But let us suppose that the cancer is discovered before it has spread very far, if at all. The tissue in which the cancer is growing is either removed surgically or is destroyed by radiation or some other method — in some cases it now can be done by chemotherapy, which is the use of potent drugs to attack the cancer cell.

Once the cancer is destroyed, it cannot spread. Cancer can, in that manner, be cured — and in that manner it is being cured, every day.

What is essential in such cures is to find the cancers, before they have spread so far as to make removal impossible.

That is why, for years now, we have been campaigning so strenuously to persuade people to take notice of every symptom which even might be cancer, and be examined without delay.

Yet so many people cling to their blind fear of cancer that they keep putting off having examination for symptoms they know may be dangerous! Finally, when their condition becomes so serious that they can no longer ignore it or pretend it doesn't exist, it is too late for cure. What a tragic waste of life!

Cancer can be cured — if found early. That is why "just a flyspeck" of cancer can be destroyed by radiation (X-ray) or radium and the disease thus cured. Often considerably more Lives that should have been saved are being lost every day because people delayed, because they let themselves be tragically misled by the fear that "there is no cure." There is — and to save the most lives we must keep drumming that fact into people. There is a cure: removing the cancer while it is still small.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can you pick up tapeworm or worms of any kind from a pet cat? — M.P.

Transmission of parasites (except maybe fleas) from pets to human beings is so rare that we should almost ignore the thought. Most diseases are passed from person to person, not animal to person.

Note to Mrs. S.G.: An underactive thyroid can affect hair growth. Your daughter should have the tests that her doctor suggested.

Fear McCarthy Leader Is Humphrey Backer

BY ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

LOS ANGELES — Although few readers realized it, a rapidly anti-Kennedy, full-page political advertisement in the first edition of last Thursday's Los Angeles Times suddenly disappeared in the second, main edition of the Times.

The decision to yank the ad

and replace it with another sponsored by the McCarthy for President committee was made by one man — Washington lawyer Thomas Finney. Finney took a leave of absence two weeks ago from his high-priced Washington firm (headed until recently by Defense Secretary Clark Clifford) and is now in complete charge of Senator Eugene McCarthy's campaign for tomorrow's crucial California primary election.

Finney has kept himself under a cover in California, working first out of a hotel room in San Francisco and, since Thursday, from a suite in the Beverly Hilton Hotel here.

Although Finney is an old friend of McCarthy's, he was suspected by McCarthy's own campaign aides — the idealistic, non-professionals who got the McCarthy campaign going in the early days of New Hampshire — of being a double agent. They worried, in short, that Finney was not so much for McCarthy as he was against Kennedy, with Vice President Hubert Humphrey as his real choice for the nomination.

Now Key Figure

This suspicion, which did not surprise Finney, has now been erased from the minds of McCarthy's old campaign crew, and Finney has become the key figure on McCarthy's campaign staff as demonstrated by his solo decision to yank that newspaper ad (on grounds it did not strike the proper note for the first post-Oregon display in the series of full-page McCarthy ads now running daily in all major California newspapers).

But if McCarthy's own political amateurs are satisfied that the shrewd and capable Finney is no double agent, there is nonetheless plenty of doubt elsewhere, particularly in the Kennedy camp.

One of Finney's first acts, for example, was to detach several expert copywriters from the Doyle, Dane, and Bernbach ad agency in New York and bring them to San Francisco to whip McCarthy's lagging and confused media campaign into shape. DD and B handled the Johnson-Humphrey campaign in the 1964 (which Finney served as a consultant) and has now been retained as Humphrey's principal advertising agency for his own presidential campaign.

Moreover, despite a flat ban imposed by Humphrey on any help to McCarthy during the California campaign, there are frequent sub rosa contacts between the vice president's staff and McCarthy's staff. Humphrey men regularly fill in the McCarthy staff on such politically useful tidbits as the results of private political polls.

Johnson on Ballot

But if Finney welcomes this low-grade assistance from the Humphrey camp, he most definitely does not welcome the $500,000 publicity campaign on behalf of the all-but-forgotten Lynch delegation that started here the day after McCarthy's primary victory in Oregon. This delegation, headed by State Attorney General Thomas Lynch, was organized to carry the Lyndon Johnson banner in tomorrow's primary. It is still on the ballot despite the President's withdrawal. Humphrey, certain that it would be defeated by Kennedy, ordered his California backers to have nothing to do with it. Otherwise, he would be tainted with the defeat.

Despite that decision, it is a fact that most if not all the $500,000 cost of the newspaper, TV and radio advertising campaign for the Lynch delegation is coming from Humphrey supporters — some here, some in the East. Political experts believe it could get up to 20 per cent of the vote.

What bothers Finney — and has infuriated delegates on the McCarthy state — is that, although the revised Lynch delegation will undoubtedly achieve its main purpose and reduce Kennedy's total to under 50 per cent, it will cost McCarthy more votes than Kennedy. It will, in fact, make it impossible for McCarthy to extract the most from the momentum of his Oregon triumph, and not even the mysterious Mr. Finney can do anything about that.

Cars Sideswipe; Woman Injured

Myrtle Demlow, Milwaukee was taken by ambulance to Appleton Memorial Hospital after her car went out of control and tipped over on U. S. 45, just south of Hortonville, about 9 a.m. Sunday.

Outagamie County police said she suffered head and leg cuts. She was southbound, attempting to pass a car driven by Patrick D. Langros, 35, Wilmette, Ill., when the accident occurred.

Police said her car sideswiped the Langros auto on the left side then skidded into a ditch where it overturned. Her 1959 Ford was extensively damaged. There was minor damage to the Langros car.

Science Shrinks Painful Hemorrhoids Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

Finds Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles In Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases, to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching and relieve pain. In case after case doctors proved, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinking) took place. The secret is Preparation H®. There is no other formula for hemorrhoids like it. Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In-oleman suppository form

17 Milwaukee Firms to Hire Problem Jobless

MILWAUKEE — Seventeen Milwaukee area firms have applied to train and hire the hard core unemployed under the Job Opportunities in the Business Sector program, according to Lewis F. Nicolini, the U. S. Department of Labor's regional manpower administrator.

A total of 149 proposals were received from employers in Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio and Wisconsin. The states comprise Region V of the Labor Department's Manpower Administration.

Nicolini said his office expects to award the first JOBS contract in the region by the end of this week.

"The response," he said, "was greater than anticipated. Throughout the United States, 603 business firms submitted proposals by the May 15 deadline."

Nicolini said he was also pleased at the speed with which the National Alliance of Businessmen responded to President Johnson's plea for cooperation in the precedent-setting JOBS program.

The President first outlined the JOBS program — and asked the business alliance to help — in his January manpower message to Congress. Target of the JOBS program is 100,000 placements by July, 1969, and a half million by the summer of 1971.

McCarthy Vs. Kennedy

Highlights of Debate

NEW YORK (AP) — Following are highlights of the discussion Saturday night in San Francisco between Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy on ABC radio and television.

Q. What would you do to stop violence and riots in this country?

Kennedy: "I would help police departments through funds... I have gone into the ghettos... and said we can't solve these problems overnight... I think we have to provide jobs with the government being the employer... as a last resort and then bring in the private sector in a major way... doing away as much as possible with the welfare system... and getting people jobs by giving the private sector tax incentives and tax credits."

McCarthy: "I think I am in general agreement... there ought to be federal money given to state and local authorities... that the use of either federal troops or national guards should be a very reserved use... and what we have to do is to begin to build a million houses a year for the low-income people. Unless we do that... no matter how many police we have... there will be protests, there will be some violence."

Q. If you were president, what would you do in Vietnam?

McCarthy: "I would be de-escalating the war in Vietnam and drawing back from some of our advanced positions while still holding strength... I would not have the secretary of state making statements about how we would have no coalition government to come out of the conference in Paris... I'm not particularly concerned whether it is called a coalition or fusion... and we have to recognize that that government will include the National Liberation Front."

Kennedy: "I'd pursue the negotiations in Paris. At the same time I'd make it quite clear that we would expect Saigon to begin their own negotiations with the National Liberation Front. I would be opposed to what I understand Sen. McCarthy's position is of forcing a coalition government on the government of Saigon, a coalition with the Communists even before we begin the negotiations... that should be determined by the negotiators, and particularly by those people of South Vietnam."

"I would demand privately and publicly an end to the corruption that exists in Vietnam... I would make it clear as we went along that the South Vietnamese are going to carry more and more of the burden of conflict."

McCarthy: "I didn't say I was going to force a coalition government on the South Vietnamese. I said we should make clear we are willing to accept that. If the South Vietnamese want to continue to fight, work out their own negotiations, that's well and good."

Q. What about tax increases—the President has made a very strong appeal for a 10 per cent surcharge.

Kennedy: "I have said that I would take an increase in taxes. I think the 10 per cent is too high, and I think it's unfair to middle income groups... Secondly, I would like a tax reform program... there are dozens of people who make more than a million dollars a year who pay no taxes at all... I think it's unjust and unreasonable... I would like to see a program so that all people pay their just share of taxes."

McCarthy: "I think everyone is for that; the question of eliminating inequities in the code; these real loopholes were the things we should have attacked in the big tax cut of '64... So far as the surtax is concerned, I recommended earlier that they use credit controls and some selective excise tax... I think we may have to be forced to... a surtax of 6 or maybe 10 per cent."

8 per cent... 6 per cent plus a $6 billion cut in expenditures... Q. President Johnson has been emphasizing that, no matter who is the next president, the United States will keep its commitments in Asia. What do you think?

Kennedy: "I expect that we are going to remain in Korea. I think we have a position in the world that we cannot ignore. I don't think that position rests on military power so much as what our moral leadership is... but I think that aggression would be against the United Nations, which is still the power in South Korea... I do think we have some commitments around the globe... to Israel, for instance... but what I don't think is that we can be policemen of the world."

McCarthy: "I have been a strong defender of President Truman and his intervention in Korea. I think we have clear obligations to the Chinese in Formosa, Taiwan. We have clear obligation to the Japanese by virtue of the treaty... we have a clear moral, legal responsibility in the Middle East to Israel, and also I think a strong obligation to maintain strength in NATO."

Q. Should Secretary of State Rusk be replaced?

Kennedy: "I think he's been a very dedicated American... I happen to disagree with the policies he's espousing... but I don't question his integrity. I have a direct difference, quite clear difference with the secretary of state. I doubt very much that he would want to remain under those circumstances."

McCarthy: "I think we give cabinet members too much protection... They ought to be held answerable for policy mistakes and for position mistakes... cabinet members ought to be more expendable than senators."

Humphrey Might be Big Winner

California Primary Could Deal Setback to Both RFK, McCarthy

LOS ANGELES (AP)—California's Democratic presidential primary Tuesday apparently will trigger a furious assault by Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy on Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's convention vote strength.

Either Kennedy or McCarthy—and just possibly both—will be politically maimed by the outcome of their battle for the state's 174-vote share of the 1,312 needed for the presidential nomination at the Chicago party convention.

Kennedy has indicated he will consider quitting if his effort to refurbish his winner image here after his Oregon loss is turned back by his Minnesota opponent.

McCarthy has consistently rejected the idea that he will fold up his tent even though a loss Tuesday would leave him with a lone victory out of four primary contests with the New Yorker.

There remains the remote possibility that both Kennedy and McCarthy could take it on the chin in Tuesday's voting from a delegate slate headed by state Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch.

Originally for President Johnson before he quit the contest, this slate is running unpledged. Most of its members seem to favor Humphrey as the nominee. No matter what happens in California, however, the two senators seemed likely to fall into some kind of loose confederation aimed at preventing Humphrey from locking up the nomination before the August convention meets.

New York Base

Kennedy will be primarily concerned with sharing up his own base of New York in the June 18 primary, when convention delegates will be elected by congressional districts.

McCarthy is challenging him with slates of his own in an effort to share in New York's 190-vote delegation. Humphrey men have been busy beating the bushes for New York support.

McCarthy said he intends to campaign in New York whatever happens in California. He said what he calls his crusade will continue up to the convention, regardless of developments.

Kennedy has resumed trying to coax McCarthy into a coalition. He said it is clear "both of us want to move in a new direction" from the course taken by President Johnson's administration, now represented in the nomination contest by Humphrey.

Get Together

"Perhaps after the California primary we can somehow get together," he said.

McCarthy made it clear he intends to pursue his independent course, still based primarily on his opposition to Johnson war policies which Humphrey has supported.

Although the senator and vice president have had long years of political association in Minnesota, McCarthy seems to be making it increasingly difficult for him to swing in Humphrey's direction if it appears at convention time that he cannot himself win the nomination.

McCarthy said Sunday that Humphrey and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, top contender for the GOP presidential nomination, had arrived at about the same position on Vietnam.

"I think they come out about even," he said.

Rocky Calls Racial Peace Greatest Need

Republican Hopeful Visits With Knowles, Talks in Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said today the nation's "greatest internal need" is a leadership which "can restore racial peace and preserve domestic tranquility."

Rockefeller, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, flew into Madison Sunday night and dined with a fellow Republican, Gov. Warren P. Knowles, at the executive mansion.

Rockefeller's speech was prepared for delivery at Milwaukee's Canaan Baptist Church.

"Not long ago, I offered a program of private and public action to rebuild the nation's slums and bring equal opportunity to millions of American citizens," Rockefeller said. "The program seemed to bother some people."

False Hopes

"They warned against raising 'false hopes' in the hearts of the poor. I agree there is no excuse for raising false hopes. But I say there is even less excuse for offering no hope."

"I know from practical experience," the governor said, "that these things are doable. And this is one of many reasons I am trying to offer the Republican Party a choice of presidential candidates."

"For 10 years," Rockefeller continued, "I have led the expansion and strengthening of New York state's law against discrimination. It is the strongest in the country today."

"Dedicated, experienced executive leadership in Washington can make a big difference to all Americans," Rockefeller said, adding: "I hope the Republican Party will bear this in mind and exercise its right to make a choice—not just pay off political debts."

ned to join them from Miami and explain upcoming strategy. But the torrents of rain and heavy seas prevented Nixon from leaving Miami and stranded the newsmen on the tiny island about 160 miles northeast of Miami.

In Miami, 35 m.p.h. winds doubled coconut palms. Heavy rains flooded streets.

The storm came after southern Florida recorded its wettest May in modern history and heightened the possibility of wide-spread flooding that often accompanies tropical storms.

In Cuba, doctors and nurses were rushed into Pinar del Rio Province after the storm passed over. There were no reports on how many casualties Abby left behind.

Protests by Students Spread to Yugoslavia

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Enraged Yugoslav students tried to crash a wall of policemen blocking an antigovernment protest parade into the capital today and fierce fighting—a renewal of night-long bloody riots Sunday—broke out again.

It was this Communist nation's first taste of the undergraduate unrest that has spread throughout the world this year. Ambulances rushed from the troubled area along the banks of the River Sava, carrying away students who tried to break through a police line and carry their demands for change at Belgrade University into the heart of the city.

Voice in Problems

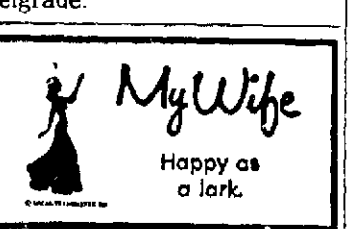

The students also are asking for the resignation of the city's security chief, and a voice on "open social problems."

Police sealed off the sector and stopped traffic going to it. The new outbreak followed a student explosion Sunday night which brought injuries to 60 persons including a number of policemen.

Protesters at a student meeting today were told that arrested students had been released and that their demands would be met by university authorities, but they decided to go ahead with their demonstration to underscore demands for the resignation of Nikola Bugarcic, head of the city's interior or security department.

They demanded better living conditions and a reorganization of Belgrade University that would provide better jobs for them after graduation.

The violence Sunday night had no immediate political background. It was set off when students tried to crash a party being held in a students hall for young volunteer workers helping to build a new section of Belgrade.

Area Girl Scouts Close Busy Year

Active in Many Projects

Members of Brownie Troop 94 of St. Pius School, above, presented stuffed animals they made to the pediatrics ward at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Kalyn Van Asten and Lucy Van Elzen, seated on the bed, accept the animals on behalf of the hospital from Susan Lorenz, Julie Fellner, Julie Paul, Laurette Slavik and Cathy Petrasko. At right, Nancy Zimmer and Judy Schindhell look at an international display at the International Folk Fair.

As the school year enters its final week, Girl Scouts in the Fox Cities area can look back on a year filled with projects and camaraderie. Brownies now in the third grade will fly-up into junior sister troops, receiving wings and pins in the ceremony. Sixth grade Junior Scouts will bridge to Cadettes receiving the cockatoo emblem for their hats, while ninth grade Cadettes will move to Senior Scouting in a capping ceremony planned by the Seniors in honor of all the graduating Cadettes and the Girl Scout movement.

International Fair
An International Fair at Hortonville's Commercial Park May 18 involved girls from the entire Fox River Area Girl Scout Council. Games were played, songs sung and dances performed during the fun-filled day. At an International Cafe, food from other lands could be tasted and savored and the international spirit that is part of the Wisconsin heritage renewed at an all-nations display. The program got underway at 1 p.m. and closed with the Scout's Own at 8:45 p.m.

Johnny Apple Seed
Eleven Brownies and Junior Scouts from Troops 150, 152 and 160 at Edison School were busy this spring preparing and presenting "Johnny Apple Seed" in pantomime. The girls with the assistance of Mrs. Gretchen Gygi, Mrs. David McGuire and Mrs. Eugene Jones made scenery and gathered together items for their costumes. First given at the Methodist Church Girl Scout breakfast, the pantomime was also performed at Edison School, Outagamie County Hospital and the Lawrence University Folk Festival. Members of the cast included Wendy Holdorf, Sherry Gygi, Cathy Jones, Pam Tarr and Sherry Jones. Dancers were Jamie Eick, Tanie Mann, Cindy Tarr, Sherry Tarr, Pam Holdorf and Kathy Schuh.

Brownie Troops 173, 235 and 135 at Huntley School assembled hygiene kits for use in hospitals in Vietnam and in clinics in Hong Kong as part of Project Concern, started five years ago in an old ship converted into a floating clinic for the river people of China. Another hospital was opened in the Hong Kong Valley and most recently in South Vietnam. The girls saved trading stamps to redeem for supplies and equipment or to help pay for travel expenses of doctors and other personnel to field locations.

Last Tuesday the Huntley Scouts held a father-daughter cook-out at Plamann Park. They grilled hamburger to serve their dads and after the meal everyone participated in a nature hunt.

Stuffed Animals
Brownie Troop 94 at St. Pius School made stuffed animals for children in the pediatrics ward at St. Elizabeth Hospital as their service project for the year. On May 22, they presented the animals to the hospital.

Brownie Troop 103 and Girl Scout Troop 115 of Woodlawn School planted trees and shrubs around their school on May 22. The service project will make the school grounds more attractive.

Junior Girl Scout Troop 379 and 196 from Little Chute splashed in the YMCA pool May 26. After a fun-filled hour of swimming, the girls had lunch in the Y cafeteria.

Scouts and Brownies of Woodlawn School, above, planted trees and shrubs around their school. Taking part in the service project are Jayne Miller, Barbara Ernst, Kim Knorr, Jan Conway, Patti Parker and Sharon Members of Troop 337 of Appleton performed "Hava Nigelia," an Israeli folk dance, at the International Folk Fair.

Assembled on stage, above, during the pantomime performance of "Johnny Apple Seed" are members of the cast. The play was performed on several occasions by Brownie Troops 150, 152 and 160 from Edison School. At right, Mary Beth Phalen, Chris Mack and Pat Mason sit at the dining table in the Dutch home scene at the International Folk Fair. The display was the work of Troops 26, 317, 324 and 428 of Menasha.

Woman's Mother Enjoys Being First With Bad News

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Right now my head feels as if it will burst. My mother just left. I need to know what to do about her daily visits which leave me depressed, drained and half sick.

The minute Mother sits down she begins to report on the illnesses and tragedies of relatives, friends and neighbors. Every story she tells is like a movie. She has an eye and an ear for detail that is uncanny. Mother makes you feel every ache and pain of the person she is describing. She'd rather go to the hospital to see a sick person than go to a party.

Last month Mother attended seven funerals. (Only one was a relative.) Right now I am so down in the dumps I could die. I can do nothing to alleviate her hairdresser's agony (her small daughter is dying of leukemia). I can't help her neighbor whose only son lost both legs in Vietnam. Last week Mother awakened me at midnight to tell me about a car accident in which four people were killed. She had heard it on the radio. I didn't know the people and neither did she — but "Isn't it awful?"

I love my mother and I don't want to be disrespectful, but I just can't listen anymore. Do I owe it to her? Would I be a bad daughter if I told her I didn't want to hear the daily reports of tragedy and death? Please advise me, Ann. — Bluer Than Blue

Dear Blue: Each of us knows someone who thoroughly enjoys being first with the bad news. When that person is your mother the problem becomes compounded because you cannot lop off a mother as you would a pesty neighbor or a boring friend.

Tell Mary Sunshine her continuous recital of gloom and doom is making you ill and she'll just have to spare you. When she starts again tell her you'd prefer not to hear any more sad stories and then change the subject.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've always had an odd feeling about Phi Beta Kappa keys dangling from watch chains. They seem to say, "Look at me. I am smart." (Worse yet, in my opinion, is the woman who wears her Phi Beta Kappa key on a chain around her neck.)

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. (Copyright 1968)

Landers

But what do you think about a 40-year-old man who wears his Phi Beta Kappa key as a lapel pin? Isn't this tasteless? It really knocked me out. How about you? — Galatea

Dear Gal: Corny, yes. But it doesn't knock me out. I'm mystified as to why you attach so much importance to it.

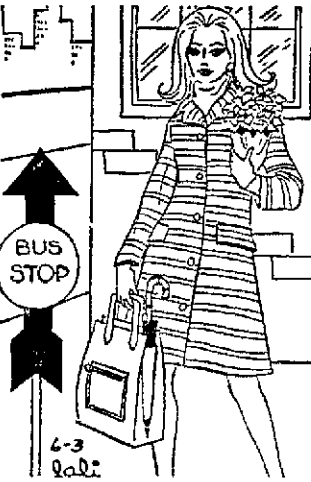

Drinking may be "in" to the kids you run with — but it can out you "out" for keeps. You can cool it and stay popular. Read "Booze and You — For Teen-Agers Only." Send 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Lovelier You When It Rains

Just as Noah said, "It's going to rain." And much like the twosomes that boarded the ark, the girls boarding the bus are likely to look exactly alike in their rain gear. Enough of it!

Fashions for rainy days offer so much variety — individuality, distinction and charm — that rubber stamp looks are totally unnecessary. Almost every fabric is now treated to repel rain and stain. The finest linens, silks and feather-light wool jerseys have joined cottons, synthetics and blends for wear in summer showers. Solid colors are rich, and patterns take to neat plaids, big checks and gay florals.

Styling is handsome. Very often you can't tell a raincoat from a fair weather job without the hang tag. And what a boon it is for the business contingent and the traveler. Most anyone, really!

The newsy shapes have more fit as exemplified by coachman coats. Or come close to the body like a skimpy shirtdress. Capes are swingers for sure, the fuller and more dashing the better.

To keep the pace, accessories for rain are the most. There are marvelous umbrellas with the shape and colors of Tiffany lampshades. Vinyl totes house their own matching nylon umbrellas. Vinyl rain hats are millinery triumphs.

Whee, let it rain. (Copyright 1968)

Ready Air Conditioners for Summer

Summer's sweltering days and nights aren't very far ahead. You've probably already put away the sleds and snow shovels and checked the screens and lawn mower. The garden's being worked over, and maybe you've even taken your car in for its spring tune-up. And, if you're a housewife, you may be up to your ears in spring cleaning.

While you're doing all of these things, better put a note on your check list to have a look at that room air conditioner, too. It's got a hard summer's job ahead of it, and it's got to be ready to go when the temperature begins to soar.

Check Regularly Today's room air conditioners are remarkably rugged and reliable mechanisms. But, like other devices, including the cord. The wire should not be frayed or chafed. Sometimes, rubber or plastic insulation gets old and starts to crack. This may be especially true where the wire joins the plug. Check the plug, too, making sure the contacts are not bent or broken; to get a better electrical contact, they can be cleaned with steel wool until they are shiny. If the cord, plug, or wall outlet show any signs of damage, they should be replaced.

You can do a lot of air conditioner check-out yourself. This will not only save you money, but if repairs are needed, you may be able to tell the serviceman what's wrong.

Most air conditioners have filters that remove dust, pollen, and other airborne particles from the air before they cool it. The filters could be so full of dust and lint that the air movement is restricted too much or even blocked. The filter should be replaced or cleaned. Some air conditioners have washable air filters that you can clean up in the sink and put back in.

Check the electrical power between the overlapping window sash. Finally, on a reasonably warm day, turn the air conditioner on and test it in operation. If you have a unit with an adjustable thermostat, turn it all the way to "cold." The unit should run quietly, and put out a cool breeze. Check the fan speed controls and the air directors.

Chances are everything will be working fine. But, if not, better call in the serviceman. If it's early in the season, he may be able to take care of things right away.

A good modern air conditioner, properly cared for, will give trouble-free operation for years during those sticky summer days and nights.

St. Pius Mothers Group Celebrates Folk Mass

Members of St. Pius X Christian Mothers Society and their daughters attended a Folk Mass May 26 at the church. Breakfast was served after the mass. Breakfast program included a panel discussion of the Folk Mass by a group of mothers, daughters and nuns. General chairman of the event was Mrs. Francis Sumnicht. Committee heads were Mrs. Thomas Martineau, tickets; Mrs. Ed Ruscher, food and Mrs. John Kronforst, decorations.

Toastmistresses to Install Officers at Annual Dinner

Mrs. Louis Schulze will be installed as president of the Appleton Toastmistress Club at the annual dinner meeting planned for 6 p.m. Thursday at the Melody Supper Club.

Mrs. Louis Vanevenhoven will act as toastmistress and Mrs. Clifford Braeger will have charge of table topics.

The program will feature a "Miss Toastmistress International" contest in which all members will participate.

Mrs. Freeman will report on the Toastmistress speakers bureau assignments for the United Fund and Mrs. Vanevenhoven will call for Toastmistress participation in a day camp program regarding officer duties and training in parliamentary procedure for YMCA youth groups.

Guest reservations may be made with Mrs. Gordon Lathrop, 1119 Rankin Court, or Mrs. Max Freeman, 1120 E. Moorpark St.

Sheinwold Everybody Helped by New Book

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD
"More than half of the tricks in no-trump contracts are won by low cards, and one of the main problems in play is to be in the right hand to cash them," Terence Reese and Albert Dormer point out in their new paperback "The Play of the Cards." They illustrate this important point with the hand shown today.

South's contract is three no-trump, and West leads the five of spades. Since it is possible that West has led from a suit headed by the queen-jack, South is tempted to let the first trick ride around to his ace-ten.

South will go down if he yields to that temptation. The ace of spades will be forced out at the first trick, and South will not have enough entries to develop and cash the long diamonds. Since the diamonds are South's chief hope, he would be foolish to get shut out of the long suit just for the sake of trying for a doubtful (and unnecessary) spade trick.

Takes King
Declarer should go up with dummy's king of spades at the first trick in order to play the ace of diamonds and then the low diamond. If West wins and leads a club, declarer should put up dummy's ace of clubs, get to his hand with the ace of hearts and then lead the jack of diamonds to force out the queen.

Now South still has the ace of spades as an entry to his hand. He will get two spades, three hearts, three diamonds and one club. The opponents can get two diamonds and will eventually get two other tricks, but they cannot defeat the contract as long as South is careful.

South would go down if he took a club finesse. East would win and would switch back to spades. Now the defenders would get two diamonds, two spades and one club, defeating the contract.

Simple enough for beginners, the new Reese-Dormer book is sure to be helpful also to advanced players. Pick it up the next time you're in a bookshop.

Daily Question
Partner opens with 1-NT (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes. You hold: S—A 10, H—A 7 2, D—J 10 9 6 2, C—6 5 3. What do you say?

Answer: Bid 3-NT. You have 9 points in high cards, and thus know that the combined count is 25 to 27 points. The five-card suit may be helpful if partner has only 16 points.

Use Ingenuity to Discover What Dad Really Wants

What does dad really want for Father's Day? With June 16 around the corner, mothers and children are trying to "weasel" out of their breadwinner a clue to the gift that he would really like to receive on "his" day.

But how do you do this without tipping your hand? Here are a few helpful hints on Father's Day "weaseling."

A good time to try and find out what dad would like to receive is to listen to his breakfast conversations. Since he probably just finished washing and shaving, he might hint through a casual conversation that he has need for some toiletries.

During the rest of the year you might pass these comments off with little thought — but right now you should treat them as smoke signals. For these comments might carry a strong clue as to just what present would suit dad best.

If, for example, he says, "I just cut myself shaving again," without tipping your hand? Here then you know the perfect present for him would be an electric shaver.

Or perhaps dad might remark that he's almost out of after shave lotion. In this case, an ideal gift will be an assortment of men's toiletries. Check the medicine chest to find out what brand he's now using. Companies offer cologne, after shave lotion, powder, bath spray and deodorant in the same fragrance.

Start at Closet
If you're looking for clues as to what pop might need in the way of clothing, don't start with dad — start with his closet.

A careful search through his wardrobe might turn up a jacket which has become frayed. If this is one that he wears quite a bit, why not take it down to the men's department of a retail store and try to match the material and style with something that's on the racks now.

If the closet doesn't turn up any clues — then check his bureau drawers. Remember, it's really isn't "snooping" since it's for a noble cause. Fathers like to be surprised when they open their gifts.

For the father who's a sports enthusiast, it is a lot easier to find out what gift would really please him. Simply ask the sporting goods salesman in the store where he shops.

Steel Raquet
They might not know your father personally, but they do know what most men who are sports enthusiasts would enjoy. For example, a salesman might suggest one of the new steel raquets as the "perfect gift" for a father who plays tennis.

Father's Day "weaseling" really isn't very difficult. Of course, there are some mothers and children who prefer (even with all these opportunities to search out clues to dad's gift preferences) to ask him "straight out" what he'd like.

character clues
Draws Pretty Girls
The pretty faces or profiles that he draws when "doodling" show that he is gregarious and friendly, sees nice things in most of the people he meets.

College Officials Put Damper on Room on Wheels

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Cherie Gordon's four-wheel bedroom has been beached and now she's living in a dormitory just like any other Sacramento State College coed.

The shapely 21-year-old physical education major drew nationwide attention after news-men learned she was sacking out in a sleeping bag on the floor of her station wagon, "The Old Green Goose," to save money.

The chairman of the women's physical education department was not enthusiastic, however, and wrote Cherie a memo strongly hinting the faculty might not approve her teaching credentials unless she changed her ways.

Cherie says that even before the memorandum arrived she had given up sleeping in the station wagon and moved into the dorm.

Miss Marlene Louise Massey and John Leo Brunner were married in a 5:30 p.m. ceremony Saturday at Sacred Heart Catholic Church. The bride is the daughter of William Massey, 1001 S. Lawe St., and Mrs. Elizabeth Massey, 325 E. Harding Ave.

Stock Market Expands Gains

Expected Action On Spending Cut, Surtax Has Effect

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market boomed higher this afternoon. Trading was heavy. The market rose from the start and expanded its gains through the morning. Gains outnumbered losses by more than 500 issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 2.1 to 334.4, further invading new high ground for this year. Industrials advanced 2.6, rails 1.7, and utilities .4.

Brokers said the list was still buoyed by strong expectations that Congress would act promptly on the tax-and-spending legislation.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 5.35 at 904.36.

Glen Alden, up a fraction, continued to pace the list on volume as investors showed further interest in its pending merger with Schenley.

Hooker Chemical, up more than 3, was a close second in turnover. It has a merger pending with Occidental Petroleum which advanced another point or so in heavy trading, reflecting anew its growing prospects for oil yields in Libya.

Amphenol, up about 1½, was reported ready to consummate its merger with Bunker-Ramo, which was active on the American Stock Exchange.

Also very active, Teledyne spurred 3 while Inland Steel and U.S. Steel rose a point or more. The steels rose in a group as they continued to respond to estimates of increases

"25 years, one million members later."

by James O. Kelley, Executive Secretary and General Manager, Medical Society of Milwaukee County

"On behalf of the 122 year old Medical Society of Milwaukee County, may I express our appreciation to the medical community and the people of Wisconsin. Their continuous and loyal support has brought about the growth of Surgical Care Blue Shield from a few hundred members in 1943 to a million plus member organization in 1968.

"The premise we started with in 1943 was simply to provide a system whereby everyone in Wisconsin could afford the best in medical care when illness or an accident strikes. Growth of this idea has paralleled the progress of medicine. Today Blue Shield provides many different multi-coverage programs to meet the complex needs of both industry and the individual.

"But whatever program is chosen, you benefit from unique advantages such as immediate nationwide service upon presentation of your Blue Shield identification card. No paperwork because Blue Shield pays the doctor direct. And because we operate without profit we return more of your money in benefits than any commercial carrier.

"Today, 25 years and one million members since its beginning, Blue Shield still aims at the same objective, the best in prepaid medical care for everyone at a reasonable cost which will not create a financial hardship."

11 Candidates Circulating Papers Today

Outagamie County Under Sheriff Calvin Spice became the first announced candidate for sheriff, taking out papers today for the Democratic Party nomination.

Spice served two terms as sheriff, scoring an upset in 1962 to become the first Democratic sheriff since 1932.

Sheriff Norbert Marx, a Republican, has not officially indicated whether he will seek a second term. Marx was elected in 1966 after Spice had completed his second term and was ineligible to run again. The constitutional limit of two consecutive terms for sheriffs has since been lifted.

Papers Today

Spice heads a list of 11 candidates for county and state offices who started circulating nomination papers today. The other 10 are Republicans.

Supv. Arthur J. Hoolihan is the first candidate to take out papers for county clerk. Two other candidates have announced.

Roney escaped Thursday from the Mankum Prison Farm near Marquette, Mich. He was serving a 10-15 year term for breaking and entering.

Wages Are Issue as Second Major Construction Halt Begins

Efforts were being made this morning to arrange a meeting of the disputants with federal and commercial construction. A mediators as an estimated 1,200 slowdown was noticeable in the to 1,500 union carpenters went on strike in Northeastern Wisconsin.

The membership of the Fox River Valley District Council of Carpenters rejected the final offer of the Fox Valley Contractors Association at a membership meeting at Sabre Lanes in Menasha Saturday afternoon.

The amount of wage increase to be included in a new three year pact — the old contract expired at midnight Friday — causes the impasse.

It is the second major strike against the construction industry in a several county area extending from Fond du Lac north past Green Bay. Previously, union masons were off the job for 44 days.

Willing to Meet

"We have notified the mediators we are willing to meet with the contractors at any time," a spokesman for the carpenters said this morning.

There was indication the U.S. Conciliation and Mediation Service district office at Green Bay was attempting to arrange a resumption of contract talks.

The carpenters have not set up picket lines at any jobsites in the Fox Valley area, it was reported.

As a result, members of other building trades unions were carrying on as usual.

The impact of the carpenters' walkout will vary from job to job, with some being hit harder than others. In areas where projects are beyond the carpentry stage there should be no problem.

Few Days

It was generally agreed it will take a few days to determine those projects where the effect of the strike will be felt soonest.

"Actually you might say it will be an X number of days before most construction will be at a standstill," a union official predicted. A spokesman for the contractors said in many instances it would be necessary to "work around" the carpentry as much as possible.

Residential construction is not likely to be hard hit by the strike as some might think. Many smaller contractors have non-union help.

But the strike, as with the

Wussow Third Candidate for County Clerk

Appleton Supervisor To Seek Republican Primary Endorsement

Charles E. Wussow, two-term county supervisor from the Sixth supervisory district in Appleton announced today he will seek the Republican Party nomination for Outagamie County clerk in the September primary election. Wussow, an active member of the Outagamie County Republican Party, began circulating his nomination papers today.

In announcing his candidacy

Charles Wussow

Wussow said, "It is my belief that, in addition to choosing a candidate for his qualifications, for the office and his personality, the voter must also, in a partisan campaign, consider the candidate's ability and willingness to work as a part of the Republican Party team with the other candidates running for the other offices on the ballot in November. For this reason I have been asked by my friends in the party to run for county clerk to provide the party with a real, effective team worker for the Republican ticket." Wussow said his slogan would be "Service and Cooperation."

After receiving a BA degree from Augustana College in Rock Island, Ill., Wussow was called to active duty in the navy in

Planners Reject Jaycee, Labor Building Projects

Planned on City-Owned Land Parcel

The Appleton Plan Commission today refused to approve building projects of the Wisconsin Jaycees and the Appleton Labor Temple on city-owned property.

Its action set the stage for a head-on confrontation with the city council.

The commission took the position that the proposed projects were not in keeping with land use plans established for a 99-acre Langedyke tract.

Commissioners also were critical of the council for setting the machinery in action to permit the projects without first consulting with the plan commission, which has statutory authority in land use matters.

No "Rubber Stamp"

The commission generally agreed it did not want to "rubber stamp" a council action in a situation where "inappropriate land use" was being considered.

Ald. Al Sloegbauer (4th), a member of the commission, was critical of the action taken this morning, claiming the city council had made up its mind. He voted against the denials.

Before the commission specifically were that:

—The city lease for a period of 99 years one acre of land (Langedyke) on County Trunk OO to the Jaycees for the sum of $1.

—The city sell to the Labor Temple from four to six acres of Langedyke property on County Trunk OO adjacent to that to be leased to the Jaycees.

Commercial Use

City Planner Walter Rasmussen said he opposed the project of the Labor Temple because it would include a commercial use (bar) and possibly other activities not compatible with the overall plan for the property.

Under a land use plan prepared by the Fox Valley Council of Governments, land was set aside for two future schools, two parks, and parking areas.

However, Rasmussen thought the idea of the Jaycees erecting a state office building on just one acre would not represent an intrusion on the plan.

In a new development since the last council meeting, City Atty. David Geenen informed the commission he did not think the $1 lease arrangement was legal.

At the last council meeting Geenen informed aldermen that under the law they could not donate the Jaycees property as they had promised to get around the statute, the council

Van Sistine New Head of Police, Five Commission

Richard Van Sistine was elected president of the Appleton police and fire commission last week and Frank Lappen was elected secretary.

Both Appleton men will serve one-year terms on the five-man body. They replace outgoing president James Bayorgeon and secretary George Dame.

Other commission members are Robert Hart and Dr. Edward H. Witter, who replaced Dame. Commissioners are elected for five-year terms on a staggered basis.

The commission is primarily responsible for personnel matters in the fire and police departments.

Southbound Traffic crossing the Lake Butte des Morts bridge on U.S. 41 near Oshkosh was backed up for six miles Sunday afternoon as Memorial Day weekend vacationers headed home. The traffic was heaviest during the middle and late parts of the day and patrolmen were stationed on the bridge to help move the traffic. Many vehicles were hauling trailers, boats or campers. The new two-lane span under construction, at left, is expected to solve the problem by next summer. (Post-Crescent Aerial Photo by David Pieper)

Butte des Morts Bridge 'Traffic Spectacular'

OSHKOSH — The parade of long-weekend vacationers was on Sunday afternoon. As usual it came to a halt and jammed up into a traditional traffic spectacular at the notorious Butte des Morts Bridge on U.S. 41.

Cars, many of them towing boats, house trailers and campers home from a four-day Memorial Day weekend in the north country, made a four-mile traffic back-up during the peak hours between 5 and 7:30 p.m. at the north end of the two-lane span.

There were no accidents.

For police officers it was a normal summer holiday weekend, except that traffic was even heavier than in previous years, the State Patrol said. The peak came a little earlier than usual, presumably because vacationers have learned to count on the back-up and leave earlier to allow for it.

The jam started as early as noon, State Police said, with a string of traffic about a mile long. It built up at 4 p.m. and finally was alleviated about 7:30 p.m.

Police said unusually slow traffic caused the early build-up. Drivers were crossing the bridge at 10 to 15 m.p.h. and looking around at new bridge construction and the view of the lake.

Traffic Rerouted

More Winnebago County state and auxiliary police were brought to the area to wave the traffic on.

At the peak about 2,000 cars per hour were crossing the bridge at about 40 m.p.h.

County police said bridge openings throughout the back-up period seriously aggravated the situation, as they have in previous years.

Traffic coming south on State 110 was not allowed to cross the bridge, but was routed through Oshkosh, across a Fox River Bridge and back out to U.S. 41 South of the bridge.

Presumably this will be the last summer of the weekend traffic spectacles, for an additional two-lane span is scheduled for completion by the summer of 1969, but police expect some back-up problems this summer and heavy backups on holiday weekends.

State Police had three squads at the scene most of the afternoon and five during the peak hours. County police patrolled the area with three to five squads carrying on- and off-duty patrolmen. Ten county auxiliary police helped out too.

Holmer Quits Guilty on 4 Charges Resource Job Youth Fined $180 and In Madison Jailed for 50 Days

MADISON (AP)—The resignation of Freeman Holmer, 50, as administrator of the State Division of Resource Development was announced today.

L. P. Voigt, natural resources secretary, who announced the resignation, said Holmer will become director of federal-state relations for the Council of State Governments in Washington, D.C.

Holmer came to Wisconsin in October of 1966 to direct the state's new water resources act. He had been director of the Department of Finance and Administration for the State of Oregon.

Voigt said Holmer would remain with the natural resources department until fall to help in development of the budget and organizational changes.

As administrator of the division of resource development, Holmer draws $22,000 a year. It was not known when his successor would be named.

Man Threatens Wife; Fined on Disorderly Count

Francis A. Peterman, 35, 609 N. Appleton St., was fined $75 and costs or eight days in jail this morning after he pleaded guilty to a disorderly conduct charge brought when he threatened his wife while police were questioning him about another incident Saturday evening.

Police were notified at 7 p.m. Saturday that a man was chasing children in the 200 block of E. McKinley Street. Police found Peterman in his yard, then in the 100 block of E. McKinley. He was taken to a hospital by ambulance after telling police he was ill. He reportedly struggled with ambulance attendants and police.

After a doctor examined him and said he could be released, Peterman reportedly ran from St. Elizabeth Hospital and disappeared. Police found him walking and he told them he was going to go home and beat up his wife.

He was booked into the city jail at 10 p.m. Saturday. Police said Peterman had threatened to kick the window out of them.

Burglary Getting To be a Habit

Burglars have hit Valley Auto Parts, Inc., 1820 W. Northland Ave., for the third successive weekend.

The latest burglary, which occurred Saturday or Sunday, was reported this morning to the Outagamie County Sheriff's Department. Investigators said there was no sign of forced entry into the building.

Taken were a large quantity of tools, three wheels, three tires, a cutting torch, a shift motorists had complained of lever, and an electric drill. The Wozniak's erratic driving for some 25 miles north of Black Creek. Meyers also said Wozniak tried to kick the window out of them.

Confined in Hospital

Wozniak, who had to be held in the squad car by four men during the trip to Appleton, was confined to St. Elizabeth Hospital until Friday morning when he was brought to jail.

Meyers told the court two motorists had complained of the Wozniak's erratic driving for some 25 miles north of Black Creek. Meyers also said Wozniak tried to kick the window out of them.

New Program To Coordinate Study Method

Special Classes Continue Throughout Summer in Appleton

A special education program aimed at extending and continuing regular school year programs will be instituted in Appleton's school district this summer.

School administrators see the program as not only giving continuity to special education, but providing a centralization of teachers knowledgeable in different special education programs.

"With all special education teachers in one school, we can pool and coordinate their abilities," said Rolland Nock, director of special education. The school is Highlands Elementary. This intensified child study approach will be of particular value to the child needing more than one education special service, he said.

Social Contacts
He felt this will complement regular year programs in which special education students attend different schools and receive necessary social contacts.

Although this centralized approach was used a few years ago in Appleton, Nock said now he hopes to build it on a permanent basis and widen the scope. The summer school program was reduced last year because of budget limitations.

Total enrollments in all special services classes will be about 180 students, more than tripling last year's total. This includes 60 private and public school students who will be attending speech therapy classes at Edison and Lincoln elementary schools.

Nock did not have cost estimates available but said school district cost would be only 30 per cent of the special education program and the workshop. The rest of the funds will come from state, federal and private sources.

One of the features of Appleton's annual Flag Day parade on Saturday, June 15, will be the appearance of the Service School Band of the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. One of the top bands in the Midwest, the Service School Band is composed of about 40 volunteer musicians who are students in Navy service schools at Great Lakes. The band makes appearances each year in concerts, parades and shows throughout the Midwest.

Second Town Sewer Plant Slated for 1969 Operation

MENASHA — A second plant, two times as large as the treatment facility constructed just six years ago, will go into operation by the summer of 1969, according to Town of Menasha officials.

The state Division of Resource Development okayed the plans for the addition onto the plant on Airport Road and thopedic will run two three-week periods beginning June 10 with a week break between them. The orthopedic will add two weeks onto its last half session.

Program Teachers
Teachers for the programs include three in special education; one workshop; five orthopedic; four Title VI, and five speech therapy. One speech teacher will be at Highlands in the centralized program approach.

Nock said two play leaders from the city recreation department will work with the orthopedic physical therapist in follow through activities.

United Cerebral Palsy Association also is providing an assistant for the summer program. Nock added that the Neenah-Menasha and Appleton Easter Seal societies have contributed funding for transporting speech students and buying orthopedic supplies.

The broadened summer school program will utilize different teaching methods, including an outdoor education program. This will combine in-class teaching and field trips, possibly to study leaves and trees, and other nature subjects.

contracts bids will be advertised and awarded next month for the $225,000 activated sludge treatment facility, similar to the existing plant.

The addition will provide a daily capacity of one million gallons and, combined with the existing 500,000 gallon plant, will take care of sewage treatment needs for 15,000 people, according to Art Scholl, of McMahon Associates, a Menasha engineering firm.

Plant Supt. Richard Mentzel said the average plant load was "close to the designed peak" of 500,000 now.

The town is also preparing plans for a separate sewage treatment plant to handle wastes from the sanitary district on the west side of Little Lake Butte des Morts.

Town Chairman Roland Kampos said he would bring plans for the new west side plant to the DRD in Madison within a month.

The east side plant addition, which is included in the contested Banta annexation package, has no connection with the west side sanitary district, Kampos said.

Meets objections
Scholl said today the plant addition on Airport Road would solve the objections raised by the DRD concerning overloading conditions. The plant was one of 44 municipalities and industries cited in the DRD list of pollutants on the Lower Fox River on May 14.

The state also ordered the town's plant to remove 80 per cent of the total phosphorus content.

Scholl said the specifications for the addition didn't include such a treatment and added that further tests would have to be taken to determine what kind of addition would be necessary.

He said the phosphorus removal would mean an expansion beyond the planned one million gallon addition.

The new addition is expected to take care of the needs of 15,000 people and should be adequate for at least the next 10-15 years, according to Walter Bylewski, president of Sanitary District 4.

The original plant was designed to handle sewage needs for at least 10 years but less than six years after it went into operation, it had reached its peak capacity.

The plant property was designed to handle five 500,000 gallon additions.

Man Found Guilty of Auto Theft

Milwaukeean, 52, Pleads No Contest In Outagamie Court

A Milwaukee man who police said stole a car from the Post Office parking lot in Appleton April 23, this morning changed his plea to no contest and was found guilty of taking an auto without the owner's consent.

Daniel Schadt, 52, will be sentenced June 18, following a pre-sentence investigation by the State Department of Health and Social Services. Schadt is in jail here under $2,000 bond.

Schadt, who was taken into custody at Menomonee Falls April 25, was to have stood trial today on the charge of taking a 1959 station wagon owned by Theodore Vonck, 519 W. Spring St., a postal employee.

However, his court-appointed attorney told the court he had made "an extensive investigation" on behalf of his client, and "all my leads wound up dead end, no matter where I went."

Permission
The attorney said Schadt told of getting permission from an unidentified man to use what he thought was the man's car. He contended he met the man in an Appleton tavern the afternoon of April 23. He said the man told him the keys were in the vehicle, and that he could use it to go to Milwaukee.

Vonck's car was involved in a hit and run accident at State 76 and U.S. 10 after the auto was taken from the Post Office. Schadt had pleaded innocent to that charge, but changed his plea to no contest and was found guilty today.

Judge Nick F. Schaefer also continued sentencing on the hit and run charge to June 18. Authorities said Vonck's car

Menasha Sewer Federal Aid Denied

MENASHA — City officials received a "Dear John" letter this morning from the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), turning down a request for $178,000 in federal aid for a storm sewer project in the northeast side of the city.

The announcement by HUD that federal funds were not available for the project came as no surprise to city hall, since City Attorney Richard Steffens told the common council last February that such a decision might be forthcoming.

In a letter to Public Works Director Joseph Kelsenberg, who had submitted the application for aid last December, HUD said it was unable "to act favorably on your request for federal financial assistance under the Water and Sewer Facilities Grant program."

The city had hoped for aid in the construction of storm sewers for the city's northeast side, which was annexed several years ago.

Ten Times

The reason for the refusal said, "We have had to develop a national program that would take account of the fact that we have on hand requests for assistance totaling over 10 times the appropriation for the program made in the fiscal year 1967."

The city already has budgeted $22,500 and then added another $155,500 in a bond issue to come up with its half of the $336,000 project.

The federal department announced it had to take into apparently was involved in another accident, in Washington County, after it was stolen. The car was extensively damaged.

consideration the degree to which "the proposed project implements area-wide comprehensive planning and programming, relative urgency of need in the urban area, economics of scale, scope of benefit and consistency with the intent of the law creating the program."

First Indication

Steffens learned of the possibility of the refusal when he took a trip to Washington last February and talked to Sen. Gaylord Nelson and Dennis C. Waltman, a HUD official.

The city had told northeast side developers it would drain the land after it was annexed.

How the city will come up with the additional funds will have to be taken into consideration by the board of public works. It is expected to come up at the council's committee of the whole meeting tonight.

After release to inactive duty he attended the University of Wisconsin School of Agriculture and graduated with a degree in Agricultural Science. He spent a short time as farm editor on the Shawano Evening Leader and radio station WTCH in both Shawano and Clintonville.

then recommended a lease arrangement.

At the time aldermen did not ask Geenen's opinion on the lease and he didn't volunteer one.

However, Geenen said he did a considerable amount of research and found that a donation or lease arrangement would not hold up. He said some other contractual arrangement might, but the plan commission indicated it was not involved in the mechanics of selling the property.

Spokesmen for the Labor Temple organization, which has plans for a $250,000 building, said they originally wanted to locate in the new industrial park (airport property) but got "shuffled off two sites."

The labor representatives said in conferences with city officials the frontage on County Trunk

OO was then suggested and his group would accept what-although it did not amount to ever the commission could do the 10 acres originally needed, it for it to find a location.

The Labor Temple project was the first to be voted down. Further discussion followed on the state Jaycee office building which will cost about $50,000 to out where we can have our $60,000 and have an estimated building and are willing to buy six fulltime employees.

Commissioner Raymond Le Vee took the position that in dealing specifically with the question of land use, he did not for a Labor Temple building — see how the commission could give approval to the project after having previously denied another.

A Difference

Rasmussen, along with Public Works Director Frank Keuler, said there was a difference, adding that the Jaycees hoped to help develop one of the commitments of building sites, nearby areas reserved for fut-taking two parcels out of a pure city park purposes. Lloyd Doerfler, commission vice president who conducted the meeting in the absence of Mayor George Buckley, thought the Jaycee project probably deserved additional consideration.

However, Stoegbauer said the city had promised the land to the Jaycees and the council already took favorable action. He warned the commissioners they were going against the wishes of the aldermen, but was outvoted.

It was explained the Jaycees also had wanted a free site at the industrial park, but the area desired was sold to a private firm. It then chose the Lange-around here who is running the show ... if there is a show," Choudoir declared.

Consumer Protection Law Vital Legislation

BY SYLVIA PORTER

The historic Consumer Credit Protection Act signed last Wednesday by President Johnson is one of the most important consumer protection laws ever to be passed in our country.

As you surely know by now, the law will, for the first time, force lenders the nation over to disclose, both in dollars and in yearly percentages, the actual cost to the consumer of borrowing money and it thus will compel lenders to provide borrowers with a vitally important tool for comparing a wide variety of terms.

It will reveal, beginning July 1, 1969, that many of today's "6 per cent" auto loans actually are costing us nearly double that rate; that a monthly credit charge of only 1½ per cent adds up to 18 per cent over a year; that in some cases, small loans being made by consumer loan companies are costing 30 per cent a year.

But there are other less publicized, little noticed aspects of the new law which in coming years easily may equal or dwarf its interest disclosure provisions in their importance to consumers.

Garnishment

—The law, for example, will prohibit garnishment of a worker's wages up to $48 a week and also will prohibit employers from automatically firing an employee whose wages have been garnished for the first time.

This provision could be a crippling blow to the vicious credit peddler who lends to the poorest risks not on the basis of their ability to repay but because the borrower's wages are garnishable. It also could save thousands of borrowers throughout the U.S. from personal bankruptcy resulting directly from today's medieval wage garnishment procedures.

—The law also will forbid loan sharks from charging interest rates exceeding 45 per cent a year and also will forbid them from collecting their debts by violent means. Loan sharking has become a multi-billion dollar business, dominated by organized crime, in which interest rates of 1,000 per cent or more a year are often charged. It's estimated that loan sharks today are bilking the poor out of more than $350,000,000 a year. The significance of the nation's first Federal crackdown on this magnitude of usury can hardly be exaggerated.

Racketeers

—The law clamps down on unscrupulous home repair racketeers who lure homeowners into unwittingly signing second mortgages on their homes, while they think they are signing ordinary installment loan contracts. It does this by providing for a three day "cooling off" period during which the homeowner may back out of a deal and by requiring home repair firms to explain clearly what's involved in a second mortgage.

—Finally, the law provides for a new National Commission on Consumer Finance which, in the words of Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex.), chairman of the House Committee on Banking and Currency, "may well be the greatest accomplishment of the bill." The Commission will probe every aspect of consumer credit in the U.S. today and surely will make recommendations for further legislation.

Tough as the landmark Truth in Lending Law is, pressure already is building up to make it even tougher, through future amendments.

Still exempt from Federal control are the installment lenders who get around the high interest rate problem simply by doubling the prices on goods being sold to the poor, or who loan on every manner of special finance charge when they draw up a loan contract.

Total Dollar Cost

Lenders still do not have to spell out the total dollar cost of a first mortgage to a homebuyer, even though this cost sometimes equals the cost of the home itself. Department stores and other retailers still do not have to spell out yearly interest rates on charge account balances of $35 or less if the credit charge is 50 cents or less a month, even though this can amount to a yearly interest rate of 17 per cent.

The protection for which former Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois fought so hard and long is at last the law of our land. But says Congresswoman Leonor K. Sullivan, (D-Mo.) the lawmaker who brought it to fruition in its current tough form, "It is no cure-all for all the ills of the marketplace. It's only a good beginning."

Today in History

Today is Monday, June 3, the 155th day of 1968. There are 211 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1940, the Allied evacuation from Dunkerque, France, was completed. Some 337,000 British, French and Belgian troops had been safely transported to ports in England.

On this date: In 1621, the Dutch West India Company received a charter for New Netherlands—now New York.

In 1808, Confederal President Jefferson Davis was born. The birthday is a public holiday in 10 Southern states.

In 1935, the French liner Normandie broke speed records on her maiden voyage, crossing the Atlantic in 4 days, 11 hours.

In 1937, the Duke of Windsor married Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson of Baltimore in Monts, France.

In 1962, a jetliner carrying an Atlanta, Ga., group on an art appreciation tour crashed at Paris, killing 130 persons.

In 1965, U.S. astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White were launched into orbit aboard a Gemini spacecraft for a four-day space flight.

Ten years ago — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev urged expansion of U.S.-Soviet trade and hinted that U.S. credits would be required.

Five years ago — Pope John XXIII died.

One year ago — Negro leaders and city officials in Boston met to try to avert further violence after the city's first racial riot.

'Everyone Was a Mudder' In Rain-Shortened Game

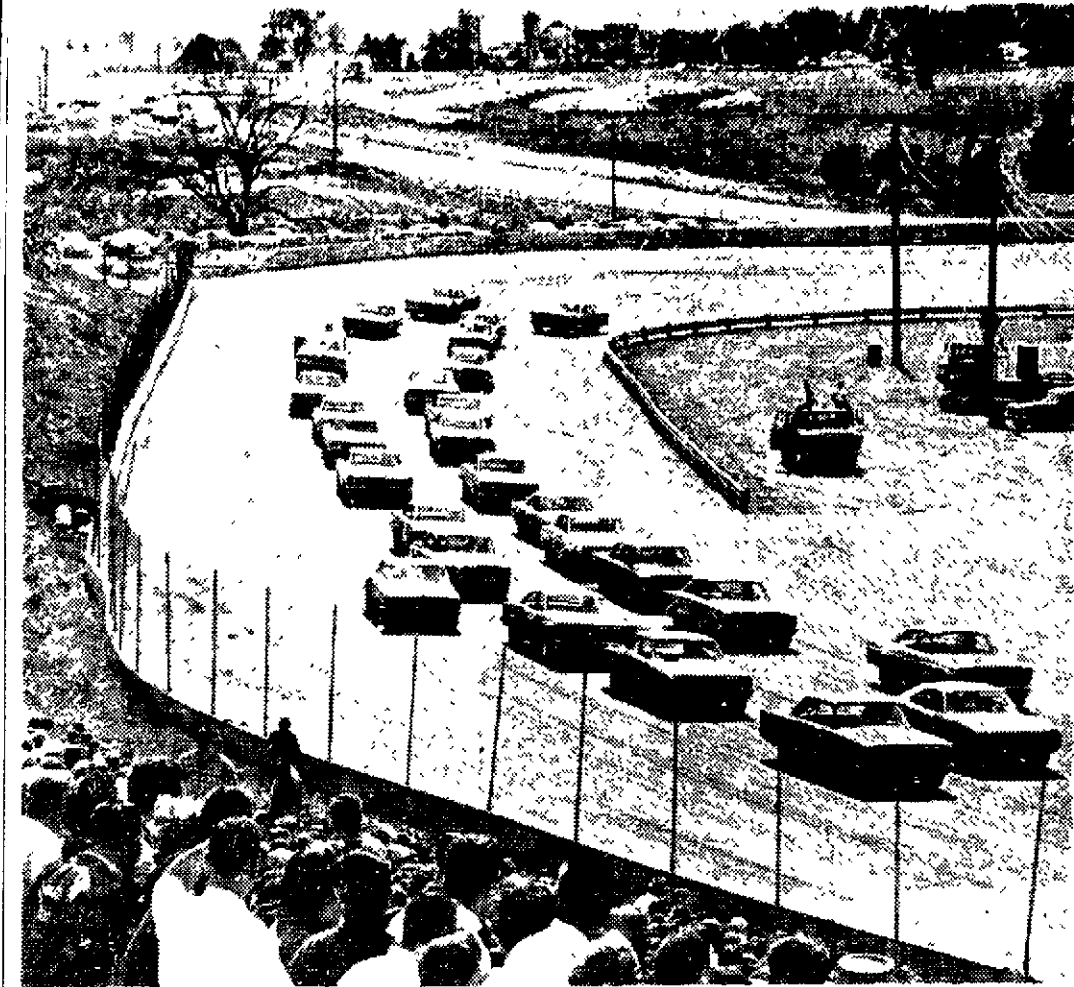

By DAVE O'HARA
BOSTON (AP) — Boston slugger Carl Yastrzemski summed up the general feeling of the Red Sox and the Baltimore Orioles with a simple statement: "Everyone out there today was a mudder."

With a standing-room-only crowd of 34,053 on hand, the Red Sox and Orioles elected to defy a steady downpour Sunday and start a scheduled doubleheader. Gallons of raindrops and a ton of sand later, the Orioles were awarded a 4-3 victory when the umpires decided the field was unplayable after 5½ innings.

"It wasn't too bad at the start, but the rain kept coming down harder and harder," Yastrzemski said. "It was a rough decision for the umpires, but they had little choice. Someone could have got hurt really bad out there."

Spreading Sand
Ground crew members fought a losing battle with the elements. They were kept busy, pushing wheelbarrows loaded with sand and spreading the dry stuff around. It didn't stay dry long.

Conditions were so bad that Andy Etchebarren slipped and fell in front of the plate after he KAUKAUNA — The rattling of hoods, the revving of engines and the clanging of tools.

This is what can be heard while in the pit area of late model stockers at the KK Sports Arena while waiting to interview one of the busy drivers.

Making sure that everything was being done properly by his pit crew, the driver left the car and now had a few moments to answer some basic questions.

Such was the situation with Ernie Derr of Keokuk, Ia., 8-time National Stock Car champion. When asked what he thought of the lay-out at KK, he stated: "It's a beautiful place, and I know that it will go over big here." Asked what he thought of the D-type track and the new blacktopping he said, "It seems to be very good and its not too hard on tires. The little zig coming out of No. 3 turn makes it interesting, but not bothersome. I'll tell you better after the 100-lapper. I have to see how good it treats me."

When questioned about his car, he stated that "Every track is different. Your gearing is so important and while testing your auto its just a matter of finding out the right gear and getting it in."

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — A Negro mother, who wanted to be a lawyer but had to drop out of school during the Depression, earned her college diploma Sunday night after eight years of evening classes.

Mrs. Amy Robinson, 53, with a degree in sociology from Indiana Central College, said "I'd love to work with minority groups—the American Indian or the Negro."

Mrs. Robinson, who has been an inspector with International Harvester Co., for 28 years and has served on the governor's Commission on the Status of Women, said "Many children to-day expect everything to be given to them and I'm talking about both whites and colored. I remember times when I didn't know where the next penny was coming from for my tuition."

Plan Now For Seaway, Reuss Urges

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Henry Reuss, D-Wis., proposed Saturday that a Canadian-American commission be created to begin planning now for enlarging the locks and channels of the St. Lawrence Seaway before the waterway is "overtaken by obsolescence."

Reuss noted that the present 27-foot seaway channel accommodates less than 15 per cent of the world's deep sea vessels.

"If the seaway is not to fall into the category of too little, too late, we must act now to begin planning expansion even before the maximum capacity is reached," the Milwaukee congressman said in a statement prepared for submission at a U.S. Corps of Engineers hearing in Chicago June 6 but made public Saturday.

"It is possible," he added, "by the year 2009, when the amortization period specified in the original authorization is ended, that there will be a need for a seaway to serve as much as double the originally estimated traffic of 50 million tons."

"It's great man! . . . What a race! . . . Those things really make a lot of noise! . . . If KK wasn't on the map before, it will be now!"

These were typical of the comments made after Sunday afternoon's inaugural race on the new half-mile track at the KK Sports Arena.

A record crowd of more than 15,500 fans attended. With big time racing apparently here to stay, fans will no longer have to journey 100 miles to see "name" drivers compete in the late model stock car events.

"KK has a great start on what will be one of the biggest and best racing centers in the midwest," stated one sun-burned and happy fan. "I don't miss many races and you can bet that I'll be here for every one of these." His statement was echoed by four of his friends who were near by.

Goosey Gander Given Governor

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Three Atlanta high school youths favored Gov. Lester Maddox Sunday with a nonpolitical donation — a white goose named Mac.

The boys, Jim Patton, Steve Bishoff and George Knight, said there was no particular occasion for the gift; they just wanted the governor to have it.

Maddox accepted the nearly grown gander and set it loose in the fountain in front of the governor's mansion.

There are no other geese on the premises, but Mac may find a playmate in another fountain dweller, Leaping Lester II, a frog.

Franks Says More Pitchers Substitute Grease for Spit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Manager Herman Franks of the San Francisco Giants charges more and more National League pitchers are substituting grease for spit in doctoring the baseballs they throw.

Franks calls them "vaseline balls" and declared all three Los Angeles Dodger pitchers his club faced during the weekend threw them.

He didn't limit his accusation to any particular team. "I never saw so many guys with vaseline in their hair—just had one of the finer spitters and plastered down," said Franks. He's more effusive because he throws hard-Dodgers 5-1 Sunday. "Under the new rules, as long as a pitcher doesn't go to his mouth, he can go anywhere he wants.

I've seen caps sopped with vaseline. Pitchers keep it anywhere, on their wrists, on their foreheads, behind their ears. Anybody can throw it and it only takes a dab.

"We've seen it all this season but now we see it more and more. I'd say between 20 and 30 are using it."

Franks didn't mention whether any of his Giants threw the super slippery delivery but there was no suggestion that Juan Marichal used anything artificial as he tossed a three-hitter to beat the Dodgers in the finale of a three-game series. Los Angeles won the first two.

The San Francisco manager was particularly pointed in saying Drysdale had substituted grease for spit, declaring, "He had one of the finer spitters and now he has this. He's more effusive because he throws hard."

Gaylord Perry of the Giants also had been accused of throwing the spitter but by the time Franks had finished his disavowal, the Dodgers had left the clubhouse without the opportunity of replying. Franks' point was that the league should investigate immediately and bring a halt to illegal doctoring

ATLANTA (AP) — Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player still draw the crowds on the golf tour, but the whiz kid newcomers are pocketing the proceeds.

Palmer who has won 52 tournament titles, drew a check for $226 for tying for 45th. Nicklaus collected $1,725 for a tie for 16th, and Player made the best show.

Severson Snaps Tie

Foxes Win in 16th

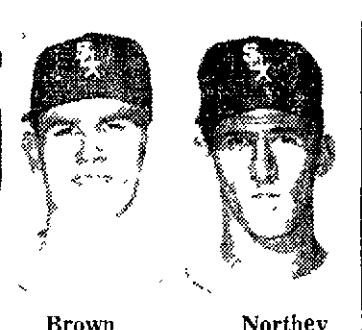

BY TIM PETERMANN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Appleton's never-say-die Foxes came from behind three times to tie the score and then won a marathon duel with Clinton, 7-6, on Rich Severson's run-scoring single in the 16th to extend their win streak to five.

The victory gave Appleton a sweep of its 4-game set with Clinton and was its sixth triumph in an 8-game homestand. The Foxes are now on the road for five games beginning with a stop at Waterloo tonight.

Severson was the one of five players who shared prime credit in the comeback victory. Scott Northey's 2-run single tied the game in the 12th after Hal Caldwell had sent the contest into overtime with a run-scoring safety in the ninth. Gary Kirtlan's sacrifice fly brought Appleton back the first time to knot the count in the sixth. Lefthander Mike Brown hurled near perfect ball for the last four innings to gain the mound decision.

Severson, a 6-foot 160-pound California native who joined the Foxes in mid-May and had only one hit in his first 17 trips up, has hit at a .420 clip in the last nine games raising his average to .291 and has recorded at least one RBI in each of the last seven games. He had three hits in seven trips yesterday with his ninth inning safety being instrumental in helping send the game into extra innings.

Clinton drew first blood in the tilt when Lorenzo Lanier lashed an 0-2 pitch to the fence in right center for a triple and then scored on starter Steve O'Neill's wild pitch.

Appleton came back to take a 2-1 lead in the bottom of the inning as Northey and Caldwell singled and then pulled off a delayed double steal with Northey scoring and Caldwell advancing to third when the catcher's peg to second went through into center. Danny Hayes then plated Caldwell with an opposite field hit to right.

The Pilots climbed back on top in the third with two runs on three hits and the score stood at 3-2 until the sixth when Curt Fontenot walked, was safe at second on an error, went to third on an infield hit and scored on Kirtlan's sacrifice fly. Again the Pirate farm team wasted no time in regaining its lead, as a double, wild pitch and sacrifice fly produced a run in the seventh.

Howell Delivers
With one out in the ninth, Severson singled up the middle and pinch-hitter Greg Howell followed suit with a single to left. With two out, Caldwell drilled a single to right to plate Severson. The Foxes had a

15,500 Watch Derr Win KK 50-Miler

Attendance Record Set; Marmor 2nd

BY TOM VERHAGEN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

KAUKAUNA — A record crowd of more than 15,500 race fans turned out to watch Ernie Derr of Keokuk, Ia., 8-time National Stock Car champion, driving a 1968 Dodge Charger, win the 100-lap, 50-mile feature race on the newly-paved, high-banked half-mile track Sunday afternoon at the KK Sports Arena.

Derr, who also had fast time for the afternoon with a blazing :23:08, garnered the pole position from a field of 29 cars entered in the feature event.

After two position laps and the drop of the green flag by flagmen Don (Mac) McDonald of Neenah, Derr roared away to a commanding lead which he held on to for the entire 100 laps.

Derr completed the 50-mile affair without a pit stop, while all other cars pitted at least once.

On the first lap of the feature, Lyle Nabbefeld, of Wisconsin Rapids, driving a 1966 Ford for Jim Firkus of Stevens Point, spun coming out of the No. 2 turn and slammed into the inside guard rail, which resulted in the drivers having to run under the caution light for a number of laps. Because of the car being partially on the track and the possible danger to other drivers, the red flag was given and the race was halted.

A spin-out and a blown tire necessitated the caution flag on the 12th and 81st laps. A total of 10 laps were run under the caution flag for the 50-mile event.

From the field of 29 starters, 16 managed to last the gruelling pace of 100 laps.

Coming in behind Derr for the No. 2 spot was Gene Marmor of River View, Ill., driving a '67 Chevy. Third was Jim Lord of Milwaukee with a '67 Ford.

In the first of two heat races, Robert Kempen, of Hilbert, drove his '67 Ford to victory with Joe Shear of Beloit in a '67 Chevy second and Berlin's Stutzke with a '67 Ford third.

Chisox Nip Twins Twice, Complete 4-Game Sweep

BY HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Cal Ermer was the first man on Minnesota's plane out of Chicago, he could hardly be blamed. Those White Sox can drive any manager to distraction and Ermer certainly had his fill of them over the week-end.

The Sox completed a four-game sweep from the Twins Sunday with 3-2 and 4-3 victories that boosted their total runs for the series to 10. Ten runs and they swept!

After losing 2-1 in 14 innings Friday night and 1-0 despite 8 1-3 hitless innings pitched by Dean Chance Saturday, Ermer should have been ready for anything Sunday. And he was too, except, perhaps, for the ball boy, who, of course, helped the Sox beat him.

In other American League action, Oakland defeated California 5-2, Detroit split with New York, losing 4-3 before winning 8-1, Cleveland split with Washington, winning 10-5 and then losing 11-3, and Baltimore bested Boston 4-3 in a game ended by rain after 5 1/2 innings.

Now, for Ermer and the ball boy.

Tommy Davis, who had opened the fourth inning of the first game with a double, was on second and Gerry McNertney on first with two out when Tim Cullen doubled down the left field line. Both runners scored as shortstop Cesar Tovar and left fielder Rich Reese stumbled around the youngster, who is stationed in the corner to retrieve foul balls.

Twins Protest

The Twins protested but Umpire John Rice ruled the boy hadn't interfered intentionally and the runs scored. Rollins singled home a run in the eighth that snapped a 23-inning scoreless string for Minnesota. But McNertney's suicide squeeze brought in another run for the Sox in the bottom half and gave them enough to stand off a last-gasp Minnesota rally in the ninth.

McNertney then snapped a 3-3 tie in the ninth inning of the nightcap with a single that secured the sweep. Earlier, Tony Oliva, who had six straight hits, tagged his second homer of the game, tying it for Minnesota. Oliva and Harmon Killebrew had consecutive homers in the second inning and Cullen had a two-run shot for Chicago.

Jim Hannan allowed a double and homer to the first two batters he faced, then mowed down 26 Indians in a row before allowing two more hits, and hurled Washington to its second game victory over Cleveland. Bill Bryan tagged a three-run homer

Marichal First to Register 9 Wins

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

A new page in the calendar hasn't changed Juan Marichal's habits, but Willie Stargell and the St. Louis Cardinals are busting out all over.

Marichal became the first nine-game winner in the majors Sunday, shattering Los Angeles on three hits for his fifth straight victory since May 7 as the San Francisco Giants cuffed the Dodgers 5-1.

Stargell, notorious for his June batting rumpages, belted six hits, including a pair of homers, and knocked in six runs as Pittsburgh divided a double-header with Atlanta, winning the opener 8-4 before bowing 10-5.

The Cardinals, meanwhile, soared back into the National League lead after 11 days off the pace by sweeping a twin bill from the New York Mets 6-3 and 3-2.

Cincinnati trimmed Philadelphia 5-3 and the Chicago Cubs took Houston 3-2 in 12 innings in other National League games.

Marichal, 9-2, turned in his strongest performance of the year on the way to his fifth complete game triumph since Houston beat him 7-1 nearly a month ago. The Giants' ace blanked the Dodgers on two scattered hits until Wes Parker homered in the ninth.

Jim Hart and Dick Dietz each drove in two runs as the Giants punished loser Don Sutton and three relievers with a 13-hit attack.

Stargell hiked his batting average 23 points to .302 and grabbed the league lead in homers, with 10, and RBI, with 30, while wearing out Atlanta pitching. The big outfielder, who has homered in four consecutive games, delivered four runs in the first game with two singles, a double and a homer.

His two-run homer and a bases empty shot by Roberto Clemente gave the Pirates a 3-0 first inning lead in the nightcap, but the Braves, led by Deron Johnson and Felipe Alou, rebounded behind a 17-hit barrage to gain the split.

Johnson cracked four singles and drove in two runs in a five-run seventh inning flurry that sent the Braves ahead to stay. Alou, who had four hits in the first game, contributed three more singles. He drove in the tying run and scored the go-ahead run in the seventh and singled again in the eighth to start a three-run insurance burst.

Roger Maris scored the winning run from first base on Or-chance to end it then but Haynes struck out after the bases had been loaded.

Appleton blew another golden opportunity when it loaded the sacks in the tenth with one out, but Rick Jackson got Karl Simon and Northey to strike out.

The visitors appeared on the verge of salvaging at least one win in the series with Appleton when Lanier belted a Bill Cole delivery over the right field fence in the 12th and another run scored on an infield hit, a hit batsman and a single.

But for the third time, the Foxes came storming back. Kirtlan opened the bottom of the inning with a single but was forced at second by Jeff Kolb. Severson was safe on a ground-throw to third when Vic Ramirez pulled Wayne Dickerson off the bag at first. Rafael Lopez then drew a walk and Northey jumped on the first pitch to him and sent it into the left field corner to drive in two runs and keep the game going.

Relievers Maniqua Zavala, of Clinton, and Brown then hooked in a pitching duel for four innings before Zavala hit Kirtlan leading off the Foxes' half of the 16th. Kirtlan stole second and held on a groundout but then Severson rifled a shot between first and second into right and Kirtlan raced home ending the 4:03 marathon.

Brown, who gained his first win of the year by stopping the Pilots in the second game of a twin bill Friday, pitched to only one over the minimum number of batters in four innings as he gave up an infield hit in the 13th. He struck out six, including four in a row following the hit.

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Ted Watkins, Negro professional Canadian football player and a leading black power advocate in Canada, was shot to death in an attempted liquor store holdup Sunday, police said.

A crowd of around 50 Negroes formed immediately and lingered throughout the day, police said. Stockton has had intermittent but not serious racial trouble in recent weeks.

The Chicago born star football end with the Professional Hamilton, Ont., Tiger-Cats, was shot four times by a white clerk, officers said. The incident occurred in a minority area.

Watkins, 27, was found lying down behind the counter, police reported. His brother, Clifford, 24, was wounded, officers said.

Pat Matzdorf, of Sheboygan North High School set Wisconsin prep history Saturday when he high-jumped 6 feet 11 inches to break the state record by four inches. It also was the highest jump ever made by a state athlete — high school or college. (AP Wirephoto)

Reunion of '23 Team

3-Man Fast Break Originated By 'Phog' Allen, Says Rupp

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Adolph Rupp says his college coach, Dr. F.C. "Phog" Allen of Kansas, originated the three-man fast break which became the basic attack for Rupp's Kentucky teams.

Rupp last season became the winningest coach in college basketball history, breaking the record of 771 held by Allen since his retirement in 1956.

"As far as I know, Phog originated the three-man fast break," Rupp said Saturday night at the 45th anniversary reunion of Allen's 1923 Kansas team, named by Helms Foundation as the national champion.

Basically it was very simple," Rupp said. "The middle man just went as far as he could, then passed off. Each man stayed in his lane, because criss-crossing just slowed things down. I made a few modifications."

Rupp was a substitute guard on the 1923 team. He quipped that he didn't play much "but I got into all the poker games after Phog was asleep."

"A Big Team"

"That was a great team and a big team for that era," Rupp said.

"Why I've had smaller boys winning for me recently at Kentucky."

All the 1923 starters were on hand, and Allen termed it the greatest team he ever coached, because all the players were highly successful in life.

The first five included 6-foot-6 John Wulf, 6-4 Tus Ackerman, and three 6-footers—Paul Endacott, Charles Black and Waldo Bowman.

"That was in the center jump era, and Wulf was the tallest in the Missouri Valley," Ackerman said. "We played a tough zone defense."

At the one-half mile mark, the Australian champion came from the middle of the pack to take the lead. He lost it momentarily to another Aussie, George Scott, but came on to win without much trouble. Harry McCalla of the U.S. Air Force came from behind to edge out Scott.

McCalla's time was 4:04.1 and Scott's 4:04.6

Silvester slipped on his pivot left foot on one 212.9 throw He said later, "I was really surprised at the distance."

John Pennel, who once held the world pole vault record, met a severe setback in his comeback. He pulled a muscle in his left leg just before he left the ground at the pit. He plunged headlong into the vaulting cushion and remained face down for several minutes.

The left leg had been heavily

Bob Lunn Wins Second Golf Test in Row

ing of the once-feared "Big Three" with a tie for seventh, worth $3,289.

"There are an awful lot of real good young players on the tour now," conceded Nicklaus, who said earlier that nobody would ever dominate pro golf again.

Sixth on Money List

One of the best of the youngsters has to be Lunn, who now has won two straight titles and climbed to sixth on this year's money list with earnings of $57,931.

Trailing him in Sunday's finish were Lee Trevino, yet to win a title; Paul Bondeson, whose best finish was second four years ago; Rocky Tompson, who has never been higher than third; Frank Boynton, another outsider, and Lou Graham, winner only once on the tour.

Nicklaus thinks the tested veterans still have an advantage in the pressure-packed prestige tournaments such as the U.S. Open where he will defend his title June 13.

But the old pros may have their hands full with Lunn, who learned his golf on the municipal courses of San Francisco.

Eight Under

Lunn fired a finishing 69 for an eight-under-par 280 to win the Atlanta Classic a week after pocketing his first champion's check at the Memphis Open.

The 210-pound youngster survived half a dozen challenges in the final round and never strayed over par on the last nine holes. He capped his triumph with a birdie on the 18th.

"I'm in a real good groove, and I'm consistent," the son of a San Francisco policeman said. "My putting has been the difference lately, I think."

Lunn played regularly on the tour last year, but won only $1,871.79 in official earnings.

Never Discouraged

"I never got discouraged," Lunn said. "I knew it would take a while before I started winning."

Cases of tomato juice were sent to Atlanta sports writers when Lunn arrived from Memphis earlier in the week, but Lunn apparently isn't trying to become the "Tomato Juice Kid."

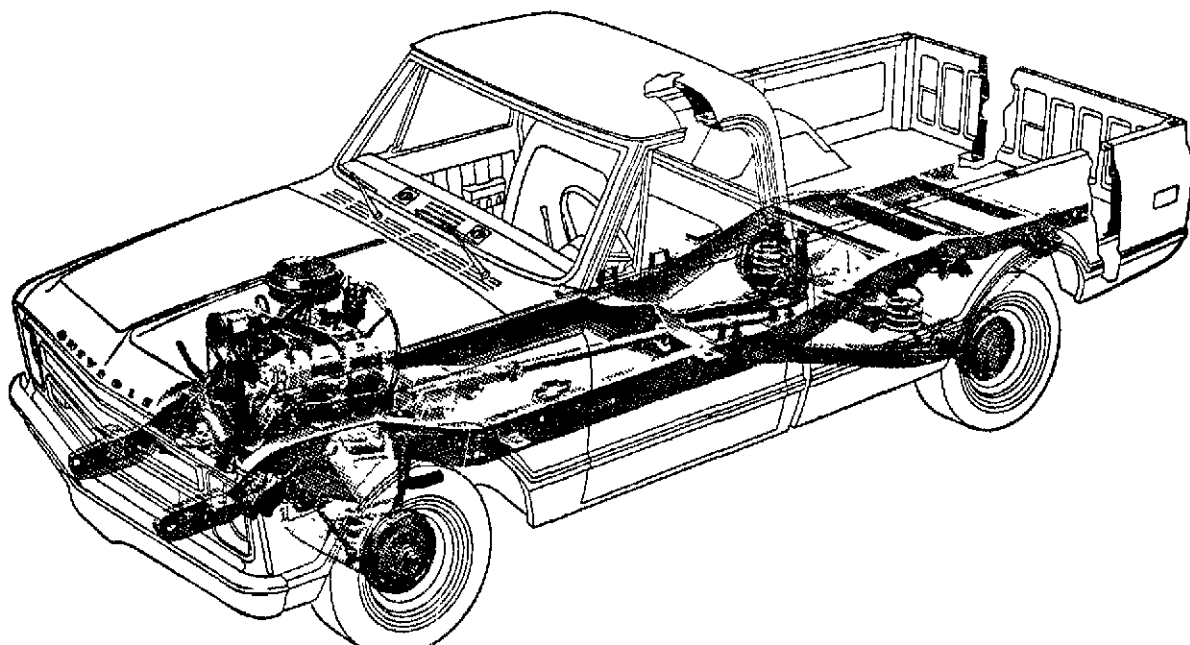

He settled for a soft drink after his triumph, in which he nipped Trevino by three strokes.

Trevino finished with a 69 to win $13,800, his biggest paycheck on the tour.

Bondeson shot a 73, Boynton a 70, Graham a 72 and Thompson a 70 to share third at 285 and collect $5,922 each.

Player closed with a 73 for 286. Nicklaus finished with a 71 for 288 and Palmer fired a closing 75 for 294.

'I Hope We Got It All Out of Our System,' Says Frustrated Ermer

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — Nobody would have blamed Manager Cal Ermer if he was found breaking chairs, knocking over tables or throwing a tantrum.

Ermer's Minnesota Twins had dropped a doubleheader to the Chicago White Sox 3-2 and 4-3 Sunday as the Sox swept the four-game series and extended Minnesota's backward streak to five games, longest of the season.

He lost an argument in the first game on a disputed call which cost the Twins a run and in the second game he was thrown out for arguing a move which was initiated by the umpires.

All this came on the heels of a 14-inning, 2-1 loss Friday night and a 1-0 defeat Saturday in Dean Chance's no-hit bid failed in the ninth inning on three squib hits.

Shook Up Lineup

No, Ermer wasn't breaking chairs or turning over tables. He calmly discussed the disputed decisions and then, with ap- lomb, said "I hope we got it all out of our system. I shook up the lineup trying to get the guys to hit and it worked with (Tony) Oliva and (Harmon) Killebrew. Now maybe we can get rolling."

Oliva, who now has a string of six straight hits, and Killebrew crashed back-to-back homers in the second inning and Oliva hit another homer to tie the second game in the eighth inning.

But a couple of Chicago lightweights, when it comes to hitting, destroyed the Twins Sunday.

Tim Cullen, who went into Sunday's action with a .208 average and six runs batted in, doubled home a pair in the first game and then hit a two-run homer in the second inning of the nightcap to give Chicago a 3-2 lead and wipe out the Twin game provided by the Oliva-Killebrew tandem.

Suicide Squeeze

Gerry McNertney, a reserve catcher with a .219 average, pulled off a suicide squeeze with the bases loaded and a 1-2 count in the eighth inning of the first game to send home what proved to be the winning run. And then he broke a 3-3 tie in the ninth inning of the second game with a single which sent home the winning run.

Cullen's double in the first game scored Tommy Davis from second and McNertney from first and triggered Ermer's first losing argument.

The ball hit on the left field line and bounded into foul territory with Rich Reese and Cesar Tovar giving chase. However, they got tangled up with a bat-boy who retrieves foul balls as McNertney scored.

"There's no way McNertney would have scored from first," said Ermer, "if the boy hadn't gotten in the way. But the umpire (John Rice) ruled the boy didn't touch the ball and didn't get in the way intentionally. So I lost that argument."

Got Heave-Ho

The argument in which Ermer got the heave-ho came in the seventh inning of the second game. With the Sox leading 3-2 and two out, Rich Rollins delivered a pinch single and Hoyt Wilhelm replaced starter Joe Horlen.

Wilhelm went into a windup and Rollins stole second. While Wilhelm was preparing to deliver another pitch, first base umpire Ed Runge signalled a balk and told Rollins to take third.

Enter White Sox Manager Ed Stankey. Stankey went to plate umpire Jim Odom and said the batter, Cesar Tovar, wasn't in the box. Then he went to Runge. Runge questioned Odom who concurred with Stankey and Rollins was sent back to third.

Enter Ermer to argue. Exit Ermer. Why?

"I didn't swear and I didn't hit him," said Ermer. "But he (Odom) said I gestured with both hands and threw me out."

"But, then, that's the way it goes when you're losing. As I said before, I hope it's all out of our system now," said Ermer.

While Ermer was hoping the Twins have it out of their system, Stankey hopes the series sweep gives the Sox momentum for their upcoming road trip.

The Sox are at Cleveland Monday night for the first of a four-game series with Bob Prid- dy (0-2) going against Sam Mc- Dowell (6-3).

The Chicago Cubs apparently have cured their inability to win in Houston's Astrodome. For the second straight game, Manager Leo Durocher kept the Cubs from taking batting practice and they again responded Sunday with a 3-2 victory in 12 innings.

Ron Santo homered in the eighth to tie the score at 2-2 and send the game into extra in- nings. Billy Williams tripled in the 12th and scored the winning run on Santo's sacrifice fly.

The Cubs are off today but return home Tuesday to open a three-game set with the New York Mets.

that touched off a seven-run rally for the Senators.

Joe Azcue tagged five straight singles and Larry Brown had four singles as Cleveland romped to the first game victory. Chico Salmon's three-run homer helped the Indians to an 8-0 lead after two innings.

Strikes Out 5

Jim Nash pitched Oakland's sixth consecutive complete game with a five-hitter that beat California. Nash struck out five men in the first two innings and finished with eight. Five doubles—two of them by Floyd Robinson—and an inside the park homer by Reggie Jackson powered the A's.

Baltimore pushed a run across in the fifth inning on Curt Motton's two-out single and edge the Red Sox with rain ending the game in the sixth. Curt Blefary tripled two runs home for the Orioles and Carl Yastrzemski homered for Boston.

Mickey Stanley tagged his first career grand slam homer, capping a six-run Detroit rally that carried the Tigers past the Yankees. John Hiller pitched a six-hitter to nail down the victory.

Tom Tresh doubled in the ninth inning and scored on a disputed play at home plate for the Yankees' winning run in the opener. Tresh beat shortstop Ray Oyler's throw to the plate and Detroit Manager Mayo Smith was ejected for arguing the call.

Hartenstein's 8-AAA

Shoe Helps Cubs to Win Over Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Formerly as the Cubs triumphed 3-2. "If it hadn't been for Hartenstein's shoe," said Staub, "we'd have gone for a hit."

Astros manager Grady Hat- ton agreed, saying, "It hits the guy on the foot and one-hops to the second baseman for a perfect double play. That's what saved them, his big toe."

Although Houston retained eighth place in the standings by percentage points over the Pi- rates, the club failed to score its first victory on Sunday at home.

The victory went to Hartenstein, 2-2, who received 12th-inning help from Phil Regan. Jim Ray, 0-2, the third Houston pitcher, was charged with the loss.

Houston's Dave Giusti had a shutout until the sixth when Lou Johnson rapped a two-out single and scored from first on Randy Hundley's double.

Giusti carried a 2-1 lead into the eighth but Santo slugged his eighth home run to send the Hartenstein relieved Cubs' starter Ken Holtzman in the 11th inning Sunday with men on first and second, nobody out and the score knotted 2-2.

Houston first baseman Rusty Staub pounded the ball back to the mound, where it veered off Hartenstein's shoe and bounced into the glove of second base- man Glen Beckert.

Beckert quickly started the Cubs' third double play. Hartenstein then retired pinch hitter Lee Thomas.

"Thank goodness I wear a size 8-AAA shoe instead of 8-AA," said Hartenstein. "That little extra was the difference on Staub's ball."

Mark Donahue Extends Lead in Racing Series

MONT TREMBLANT, Que. (AP) — Mark Donahue of Stony Brook, N.Y., extended his lead in the U.S. Road Racing Cham- pionship series Sunday by churning out a rain-soaked vic- tory at Le Circuit Mont Trem- blant-St. Jovite.

Donahue, driving a McLaren Chevrolet, posted a 39-second victory over Canadian John Cannon, also in a McLaren, in the fifth leg of the U.S. Cham- pionships.

The elapsed time for the 60 laps of the 2.8-mile laurentian circuit was a slow two hours, five minutes and 17.8 seconds with the winner driving at an average 80.44 miles per hour.

Donahue had the fastest lap of the day, 1:58.5.

Other U.S. drivers in the top 10 included Bud Morley, Lola Chevrolet, fourth; Chuck Pars- ona, Lola Chevrolet, sixth; Sam Posie, Caldwell Chevrolet, eighth, and Dick Galloway, Lo- loa Chevrolet, 10th.

He broke a 3-3 tie in the ninth

Clerk Blossoms Into War Hero

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

CAMP EAGLE, Vietnam (AP) — He was a cheerful kid nicknamed "Worm" because he was sort of skinny and most of the men around headquarters didn't even know his real name.

He looked younger than his 21 years, despite a blond moustache he was bravely growing, and as a clerk in a brigade administrative tent he normally ran the mimeograph machine, kept track of classified documents and had a few other chores.

He had spent a year in Vietnam and extended for an extra six months but had never been in a firefight or even seen a live enemy. Although he carefully kept his M16 rifle clean he hadn't even fired it for nine months and didn't see much chance of ever using it in battle.

Caledonia, Wis.

And when his moment came, cheerful, blue-eyed Dennis Breutzman, a small town boy from Caledonia, Wis., (Racine County), found it totally unreal. His first impulse was to take a few pictures of the lights in the sky.

All alone in the headquarters tent, where he was the night security man, he was jolted from his cot by incoming mortars and rockets. He carefully put on his helmet and flak jacket and unlocked the weapons rack and picked up his M16, although he couldn't find the ammunition. He didn't think he would need ammunition anyway so he got his camera and went outside, sitting in a little ditch.

There were some explosions on the hill, perhaps 300 yards away, which was the security perimeter of the 1st Brigade, 101st Airborne Division. About 200 yards down from Breutzman there were some guys firing from the pad used by helicopters in the daytime.

Borrowed Magazine

"I went to the tent across the way and borrowed one magazine just in case," Breutzman recalled. "I didn't pay any attention to those guys on the chopper pad. I thought they were GIs."

The little men on the chopper pad were not GIs. They were about 30 Viet Cong sappers. They had broken through the outer wire and were within 200 yards of the brigade headquarters, almost nonchalantly firing lethal, Chinese-made B40 rockets from hand-held tubes resembling the American bazooka.

Breutzman watched in amazement as the Viet Cong rocketed the chaplain's tent, the Red Cross tent and a truck and set them ablaze. The realization hit him that nobody else was around and nobody else was firing.

Opened Fire

"I just had to get down there and get them out," he thought.

With his magazine of about 20 rounds, he ran down and opened up. He killed one enemy soldier and wounded another and saw him being dragged off by two comrades. His magazine empty, he ran back to his tent, found a wounded buddy and got two more magazines and ran back to the fight—with bullets from AK47 submachine guns whistling over his head.

"I was pretty mad," Breutzman said later. "I knew there had to be some other GIs somewhere, but they weren't there. I was the only man shooting."

And he was. In the wild confusion of rockets and bullets, Spec. 5 Breutzman had moved alone against the Viet Cong sappers. How much damage he actually did to them, he doesn't know—beyond killing one and wounding another. But they pulled back — the camp soon realized that.

As the sappers pulled back others opened up and artillery began to rake them. Breutzman went out to the barbed wire perimeter and was disappointed that there was nothing left to do.

Went to Sleep

He went back to his tent, which had been hit by a rocket while he was gone, and thought about cleaning it up a little. But it was 4 o'clock in the morning and he lay down for an hour's sleep.

"I never did get around to cleaning up the office," he said guiltily the next day. Even so, the general put Breutzman in for a medal, the Silver Star, which isn't worn by many headquarters clerks.

"You never would have thought 'Worm' would do a thing like that," his buddies kept saying the next day. "We'll have to change the nickname."

"I don't mind it," said Breutzman. "When I pick up the phone and say 'Spec. 5 Breutzman' nobody realizes it's me and they ask for 'Worm.' It's easier to remember."

MARSHFIELD (AP)—A woman employee of St. Joseph's Hospital found an unexpected passenger in her car in the parking lot when she went off duty Friday night.

Mrs. Loraine Golden of nearby Auburndale discovered a healthy two-day-old infant girl lying on the front seat clad only in a diaper fashioned from a cloth bag bearing the imprint "Kansas City Chase Bank."

Mrs. Golden took the baby into the hospital where physicians pronounced the abandoned child healthy and normal. They said the dark-haired infant measured 20 inches and weighed 7 pounds, 6 1/4 ounces.

Marshfield Police Chief Walter Wohlfahrt said the child apparently had been delivered without medical assistance.

National Toll 602

24 Die on State Highways

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Death took no holiday either on Wisconsin or the nation's streets and highways over the four-day Memorial Day weekend. Twenty-four persons were killed in Wisconsin over the weekend and the national toll soared past the 600 mark.

The grim count for Wisconsin surpassed all records for the Memorial Day holiday.

The previous worst such weekend in the state was in 1954 when 23 died.

Last year 15 persons were killed in the Memorial Day period.

The deaths sent Wisconsin's 1968 toll to 488, compared with 356 on this date in record 1967.

Two rural Solon Springs men were killed Sunday night when their cars collided on a Donglas County road seven miles east of Solon Springs. Killed were Charles E. Garvey, 68, and Henry Flamang, 67.

Garvey was a retired forest ranger for the Wisconsin Conservation Department, having served many years at Gordon, Wis. He was also a lieutenant colonel in the old Wisconsin State Guard and was prominent in American Legion activities in the Douglas County area for many years.

Mark Garrity, 52, of Milwaukee was killed near his home Sunday when his car was struck by a flatbed truck trailer which came loose from the cab and crossed into Garrity's lane.

Roger W. Peterson, 36, of rural Kenosha died Sunday when his car struck a tree after leaving State 31 about four miles southwest of Kenosha.

Vincent Weddige, 53, of Beloit died Sunday when thrown from his car which went out of control on U. S. 51 near Merrill.

Wayne Monson, 22, of rural Strum was injured Saturday night when his car failed to make a curve on a weekend of the same length.

The safety council estimated the highway toll during the 102-hour holiday weekend would range between 625 and 725. Last year, a record 608 persons were killed on the nation's roads during the Memorial Day observance.

"We are generally encouraged with the total below our estimate," a safety council spokesman said. "But the price was still too high. People must become more safety conscious."

The weather generally improved across the nation on the last day of the holiday weekend, but it remained a driving hazard in some areas of the country. Heavy rains hit Florida in advance of Hurricane Abby. Scattered showers dampened many of the southeastern and Gulf states.

The record traffic toll for any warm weather holiday period is 732, set during the four-day, Independence Day observance last year.

Thomas Thomas, 9, of rural Darlington was killed Saturday when a tractor overturned on State 81 while being driven by his father.

Thomas A. Schumann, 23, of Elm Grove died Saturday of injuries suffered in a collision in Milwaukee on Thursday.

Steven Meier, 18, of Minneapolis was killed Saturday night when he was thrown from a car which left a road about four miles south of River Falls.

The Memorial Day National traffic death toll fell short of early estimates made by the National Safety Council, but the loss of life was high.

The toll as the four-day weekend ended was 602. A total of 488 traffic fatalities were counted during a recent nonholiday weekend of the same length.

Shooting Rumor Starts Violence

Curfew Called for Natchez In Attempt to Halt Rioting

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — With the city of 5,000 population under emergency law, 175 river city spent a tightly but- toned up night under rigid curfew as police clamped down to force prevent further violence.

"If things stay quiet I think and Vidalia, La., across the the curfew will be lifted Mississippi River bridge from Wednesday," said City Atty. here — were shut down from Joseph Zuccaro. "I expect the 8-30 p.m. Sunday until 5:30 a.m. liquor ban to be lifted then, today except for travelers and certain exemptions, such as physicians or residents moving to or from jobs.

Patrols were everywhere in the city, a one-time Ku Klux Klan stronghold.

Except for neighborhood does, keyed to nervous alert by the strangeness of it all, little moved along the hilly streets. People who ventured out were stopped, questioned, frequently searched and sometimes arrested.

Zuccaro, named city spokesman by the Board of Aldermen, said 15 curfew violation arrests were recorded before midnight — in addition to 114 arrested during the day on concealed weapon charges.

Mayor John Nasser and the aldermen imposed temporary curfew and banned the sale of alcoholic beverages, guns, ammunition and knives after a riot was touched off by a shooting.

Enraged by a false rumor that a white man had killed a Negro, some 300 Negroes rampaged through a downtown section, smashing store windows. Two buildings were burned. Police said that some, but not much, looting was reported.

Nasser said 12 tear gas canisters were thrown and warning shots fired over the heads of the mob at one point.

"We had to do it," said Det. Capt. Frank Rickard. "They rushed us."

Police said the shooting that triggered the riot happened at a service station at 11:58 p.m. Saturday. The riot was underway by 12:30 a.m. Sunday. It wasn't completely put down until 4 a.m.

Three men arrested after the shooting — two young whites from West Monroe, La. and a Natchez Negro — were under $2,000 bond each. Two of them were recovering from pistol bullet wounds.

Le Duc Tho arrived here from Hanoi by way of Moscow where he conferred with Soviet leaders Sunday.

The talks here are scheduled to resume Wednesday.

Hurricane Heads For Florida Coast

'Abby' Due To Slam Into Tampa Area

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Tropical storm Abby grew into a hurricane today in the Gulf of Mexico and aimed her torrential rains and screaming winds at west Florida's heavily populated Tampa Bay area. The weather bureau said the storm would hit at Tampa and cross Florida, emerging near Daytona Beach.

"We are now calling the storm a hurricane," said forecaster Neil Frank at the National Hurricane Center in Miami. "Her top winds are reaching 75 miles per hour in gusts. The storm should reach the Tampa Bay area by late afternoon."

The noon advisory by the center said:

"Abby is forecast to cross the Florida peninsula tonight and early Tuesday and should emerge into the Atlantic near Daytona Beach at noon. Strong, east winds will probably be 75 to 80 m.p.h. in squalls as the storm approaches the coast. As it moves overland, however, winds will diminish and may not exceed 60 m.p.h."

At noon, Abby was centered 170 miles south-southwest of Tampa at Latitude 25 6 north and Longitude 83 3 west. The storm was moving northward at about 15 miles per hour.

The weather bureau ordered hurricane warnings along a 200-mile strip of west coast, from Marco Island northward to Tarpon Springs, north of Tampa.

Abby whipped up early Sunday, the second day of the six-month hurricane season, near Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula.

Dr. Robert H. Simpson, director of the hurricane center, described development of the storm as a "screwball situation" caused by the merging of a cold front with a low pressure system.

Moving about 15 m.p.h., Abby crossed the western tip of Cuba where she dumped about a foot of rain in 36 hours. Reports from the Communist island said 10 houses collapsed and 3,851 persons were evacuated in Pinar del Rio Province and the Isle of Pines.

The storm developed on the eve of a meeting in Miami between U.S. and Mexican officials to develop a mutual assistance pact in tracking hurricanes and aiding storm victims.

Schools were closed throughout the Florida Keys as Abby crossed Cuba and headed toward Florida, sucking up the warm life-giving waters of the gulf.

'Loved the Game So Much' Golfer Buried at 18th Green

STOW, Mass. (AP) — Edward Faber of Mansfield loved to play golf so much he wanted to be buried by the 18th green of the Slow Acres Country Club.

Faber died Feb. 14 at the age of 62. A memorial service was held at dusk Saturday on the 18th green. Sunday golfers noted with some incredulity the grave covering of flowers with two golf balls nestled in the stems.

Faber requested in his will that his cremated remains be buried on the course he so often played.

Robert Page, who owns the course with a brother, said "Some people thought it was a joke. Later, when they believed, they thought we were out of our minds. But we are serious. We think it is kind of nice."

Faber's widow said she was still somewhat taken aback by her husband's request, although "he talked often of it."

"What He Wanted"

"He just loved the game so much," she said, "and this is what he really wanted, so I think it is nice. I am happy."

She said she was surprised and pleased by the cooperation of the owners.

"It wasn't easy to have to call them and say that my husband wanted to be buried on the green. I mean how do you explain something like that?"

The Page brothers said they were first stunned by the request but felt honored.

They said some of the club members seemed a bit upset, but one later added, "It'll turn out all right. Who knows, the players might even find it a help. Some golfer might overshoot the green and there will be a friendly hand now to tap the ball back toward the green."

U.S. Mistake Kills 6 Top Saigon Officials

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command launched a full-scale investigation today into the misfiring of a rocket by an American helicopter gunship that killed six key South Vietnamese officials and seemed likely to place new strains on U.S.-Vietnamese relations.

American officials were visibly shaken and appeared concerned about repercussions from the incident. An editorial in the Saigon Daily News, under the heading, "An Accident Too Many."

As the latest wave of fighting in the capital area went into its 10th day, South Vietnamese military headquarters reported that 600 to 800 fresh Viet Cong troops had slipped into the northern suburb of Gia Dinh, 2 1/2 miles from the center of Saigon.

The rocket explosion Sunday also wounded four other officials, including Saigon's mayor. The Vietnamese were hit while observing operations against Viet Cong soldiers holding out in buildings in Cholon, the Chinese district in southwestern Saigon.

The rocket decimated the top echelon of the Saigon city administration.

Those killed were Col. Pham Quoc Chu, the director of the port of Saigon and Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky's brother-in-law; Col. Nguyen Van Luan, the Saigon police chief; Col. Le Ngoc Tru, commander of Saigon's 5th Police Precinct; Maj. Nguyen Ngoc Xinh, chief of staff of joint operations for the national police. Maj. Nguyen Bao Thuy, chief of the Saigon mayor's cabinet and brother of the former minister of revolutionary development, and Lt. Col. Dao Ba Phuoc, commander of the 5th Ranger Group.

The wounded were Saigon's mayor, Col. Van Van Cua; Col. Tran Van Phan, chief of staff of the national police director; Col.

absolutely be determined what happened."

Newsman visiting the scene inspected fragments of a rocket which officers identified as the type used by American helicopters.

U.S. air strikes normally are called in by local Vietnamese commanders who certify the target area is under enemy control.

American helicopters were called in Cholon today, fighting with tear gas rather than rockets. One reason for the tear gas strikes may be called in Saigon or its suburbs without his approval, but a U.S. military spokesman declined to comment on this.

The U.S. Mission said one rocket from an American helicopter malfunctioned and "there is a strong probability that the ... rocket which fell short of its target landed in the vicinity of the officials' ment was overthrown. Vietnamese Gorge Themselves With Loot

By JOHN T. WHEELER

SAIGON (AP) — The Vietnamese soldier jogged down the street with three radios stolen from a Chinese store on the fringe of a four-block area filled with Viet Cong snipers.

His sergeant across the street hollered: "Hey, you! Where are you going with all those radios?"

Why do you take so many? You only need one."

The soldier grinned sheepishly but dropped only one radio. The sergeant ambled across the debris-littered street, picked up the radio and tied it to his field pack.

Lulls in the street fighting now going on in Saigon offer an apparently irresistible temptation to the poorly paid South Vietnamese soldier whose idea of luxury normally is a stolen chicken to supplement his poor food ration.

Tank men who didn't need to worry about the extra weight, "liberated" large numbers of radios. One army truck was seen loading up with television sets. Several policemen joined in the raids on the radios and other items.

Expensive Cigarettes

Liquor bottles, shoes and canned food could be seen peeking from many field packs.

Several soldiers passed around British cigarettes, the most expensive smoker's item on the black market. Soldiers displayed shiny new American gas lighters, and some wore gold or silver tie clasps on the fronts of their dirty uniforms.

Sometimes the looting seems directly tied to how heavy the fighting is. When they are on the move and attacking, the soldiers seem to pass up luxury items although they do scoop up food, soft drinks and cigarettes wherever they find them.

Some of the troops fired bursts from their M16 rifles to break the locks on the steel shutters protecting the fronts of shops in the area.

Many businessmen stuck to their stores to prevent looting even though endangered by the fighting. Since the outbreak of street fighting in Saigon during the Viet Cong's Tet offensive last February, there have been repeated complaints not only of looting but of senseless smashing of whatever could not be carried off.

Vietnamese, Chinese and American homes all have been hit.

The situation has done nothing to improve the government's image or to convince the people of Saigon that the soldiers are their protectors against Viet Cong depredations.

Getting Back

However, there is an added dimension to the looting in Cholon, the Chinese section of Saigon, where much of the current fighting is now taking place. The Vietnamese have always disliked the Chinese because of their domination of commerce. Like some looters in the United States, the soldiers may feel that they are only getting back a little of what has been squeezed out of them in the past.

man for the Chicago and North Western Railway after which he was employed as a machine tool sales engineer at the Kaukauna plant of Giddings and Lewis. In recent years he has been self-employed as a freelance writer and translator. Wussow has maintained his reserve commission with the Navy and is a member of a local Naval Reserve unit. He is the immediate past president of the Valley Chapter of the Reserve Officers Association.

Wussow was first elected to the county board in the spring of 1966 after an unsuccessful try in 1965. He also ran unsuccessfully for assemblyman in the 1966 primary against Harold Froehlich. In the spring of this year Wussow was elected to his second term as supervisor. He has served on the courts, justice, and enforcement committee, and for the last two years on the airport committee.

Wussow, 46, resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Erich Wussow, at 1532 W. Franklin St. in Appleton.

He is the third candidate to announce for the county clerk post which will be vacated by the retirement of Miss Mollie Pfeffer.

Previously announcing plans to run were Arthur J. Hoolihan, also a county board supervisor from Appleton, and Leslie C. Wold, Town of Grand Chute clerk.

New London Lions to See Paper Making Film

NEW LONDON — A crowd of only 300 didn't keep the Lions Club here from rating their first "fish boil" a success.

Discussion among members indicated the event would be staged again. A meal of lake trout, potatoes, onions, cole slaw, bread and homemade pie was served.

Many of the persons attending came from the Fox Valley area and had previously attended "fish boils" in the northeastern Wisconsin area.

Thefts of Grinders From Allis Chalmers

Dennis A. Schiller, 27, 1708 S. Adams St., was placed on one year probation to the State Department of Health and Social Services Friday after he pleaded guilty of the Nov. 15, 1966 theft of two air-operated grinders from the Allis Chalmers Appleton plant where he was employed.

An Appleton detective told the court Schiller was charged after one of the grinders got into the hands of a plant official after Schiller traded both machines in on two motorcycles in Appleton.

The grinders were taken from a tool room at the plant. Schiller reportedly took the machines home and ground off the serial and model numbers but, according to police, overlooked the stock numbers. It was through a trace of the stock numbers that the grinders were identified after a plant official saw the larger machine.

Police said the two grinders were valued at about $150.

Peppler Will be Faced By Ex-Sheriff in Fall

OSHKOSH — Winnebago County Sheriff Marvin Peppler will be challenged by a former sheriff on the Republican ticket in a September primary.

Both Peppler and Richard Bud' Lowell, county sheriff for two terms from 1960 and 1964, have announced their candidacy, taking advantage of the recent amendment to the state constitution that erased the two-term restriction on the job.

Peppler, 42, has twice defeated Quinn Rasmussen, first as a Democrat and then as a Republican, by large margins. An 18-year veteran of the sheriff's department, Peppler was a sergeant for four years before taking over the post left vacant by Lowell in 1964.

Lowell sought the GOP nomination for assemblyman in 1964, but was defeated by a wide margin.

Saturday was the first day for taking out nomination papers, with the deadline for filing set at 4:30 p.m. July 9.

Both men are from Oshkosh. Lowell is presently a referee

A four-legged pedestrian apparently not familiar with Appleton traffic was killed Friday evening when it ran into the side of a car on S. Walnut Street, between W. College Avenue and Lawrence Street.

The pedestrian, a deer, bounded out of an alley and into the side of a car driven by Mrs. Daisy McPheeters, 81, 909 E. Alton St., shortly after 6 p.m.

The injured animal was found dead a short time later in the 700 block of W. Spencer Street.

Mrs. McPheeters was not injured but the side of her car was damaged.

Butte des Morts Bridge 'Traffic Spectacular'

OSHKOSH — The parade of long-weekend vacationers was on Sunday afternoon. As usual it came to a halt and jammed up into a traditional traffic spectacular at the notorious Butte des Morts Bridge on U.S. 41.

Cars, many of them towing boats, house trailers and campers home from a four-day Memorial Day weekend in the north country, made a four-mile traffic back-up during the peak hours between 5 and 7:30 p.m. at the north end of the two-lane span.

There were no accidents. For police officers it was a normal summer holiday weekend, except that traffic was even heavier than in previous years, the State Patrol said. The peak came a little earlier than usual presumably because vacationers have learned to count on the back-up and leave earlier to allow for it.

Starts at Noon
The jam started as early as noon, State Police said, with a string of traffic about a mile long. It built up at 4 p.m. and finally was alleviated about 7:30 p.m. Police said unusually slow traffic caused the early build-up. Drivers were crossing the bridge at 10 to 15 m.p.h. and looking around at new bridge construction and the view of the lake.

More Winnebago County state and auxiliary police were brought to the area to wave the traffic on.

At the peak about 2,000 cars per hour were crossing the bridge at about 40 m.p.h.

County police said bridge openings throughout the back-up period seriously aggravated the situation as they have in previous years.

Traffic Rerouted
Traffic coming south on State 110 was not allowed to cross the bridge, but was routed through Oshkosh, across a Fox River bridge and back out to U.S. 41 South of the bridge.

Presumably this will be the last summer of the weekend traffic spectacles, for an additional two-lane span is scheduled for completion by the summer of 1969, but police expect some back-up problems this summer and heavy backups on holiday weekends.

State Police had three squads at the scene most of the afternoon and five during the peak hours. County police patrolled the area with three to five squads carrying on- and off-duty patrolmen. Ten county auxiliary police helped out too.

Appleton Wire Works, Union Sign Contract

A walkout was avoided at the Appleton Wire Works early Saturday when company and union separately with the firm Pulp and Sulphite Workers' Union negotiators arrived at a new two-year contract.

With the aid of James Despins, Green Bay, of the U.S. Mediation and Conciliation Service union and management agreed on a two-year pact calling for a 22-cent hourly wage increase each year, plus additional fringe benefits.

Mediator Praised
The old contract expired at midnight between the company and Local 995 which represents about 120 workers who will benefit from the raises. Wire weavers, who are represented by the Teamsters Union were not involved. They bargained separately with the firm.

Charles Buchanan, speaking for the company, said the presence of the federal mediator was "very helpful."

He said representatives of the union and company met from 9 a.m. Friday until shortly after midnight until agreement was reached. Gilbert Schroeder, president of local 995 said the negotiating committee recommended approval to the membership. After the package was put together, it was put to a vote of the union members and ratified. The union previously had taken a strike vote.
